Sen. George In GOP Assist

From a high Republican source in Washington I learned it was a typically calm, yet forceful statement by a veteran Democrat, Walter F. George, which brought an end to a warring GOP factional dispute in the Senate foreign relations committee considering the Dulles evaluation of Charles E. Bohlen. Conceivably the statement might serve as the necessary catalyst to bring an end to the one domestic threat to an Eisenhower success.

After the secretary of state had completed his thorough and convincing evaluation of the FBI report on the ambassador-designate to Russia, the usual squabble broke out between the Republican factions, one group wanting to insist on seeing the files, which was an indirect manner of saying they did not believe the secretary of state.

"At that moment," the Republican official told me, "there was heard the voice of Sen. Walter F. George, the highly respected Democrat and statesman from Georgia.

" 'Gentlemen,' he said, 'it seems to me on this side of the table, that if you gentlemen do not have any more faith and confidence in the leaders of your party who are charged with the grave responsibility of directing this great government than is here being displayed, then we are in a very grave predicament.' "

There was, reportedly, a silence. And then Senator Tobey spoke up:

" 'Senator George,' he said, 'I am glad you said that. You are exactly right.' "

A vote was quickly had and it was unanimous.

Responsibility

An elder statesman, long in Washington, asked to evaluate the first 60 days of the Eisenhower administration, said:

"I have never known a man who more wants to do a good job than President Eisenhower. His cabinet is working hard and sincerely seeking to make a success of things.

"But the Republicans in the Congress have not yet learned they have the responsibility of like action. They cannot realize they are in power. They continue to seek for some way to hit back at Truman, or even at Franklin D. Roosevelt. They act as if they were still the minority party in opposition.

"Some of the GOP inter-party squabbles are downright embarrassing," continued the elder statesman. "They fight and quarrel with one another, losing their tempers, and put their own prejudices to work against presidential policy. There are no signs of this abating. It is a serious matter now, and if this factionalism should grow worse, it might easily nullify all the sincerity and hard work by the President and his cabinet.

"If this administration should fail," he continued, "it will not be succeeded by one headed by a Taft or an Eisenhower, or by a Stevenson or a Truman. It will be succeeded by a much more radical one, and we would have a great push toward socialism, with its stifling bureaucracy."

Taft

"How about Senator Taft?" I asked.

"No Republican has co-operated more with the President than Senator Taft," he said. "He is not too happy about some of the Dewey influence, but he is giving the President every co-operation.

"He does so," he added, "because of what I have just told you. I believe he has put aside any presidential ambition of his own and is working to make this Republican administration a success because he knows that its failure will produce, not a Democratic Party victory, but a far move to the left, which would shake and change our political systems. So Bob Taft, while not always happy, is serving the Republican Party and the Eisenhower administration with all he has. If the Republican factions in the Congress are, at last, disciplined into responsibility, he will be the man responsible. If he should prove unable to do this, then the President will have to remember his own great prestige and the confidence in which the people hold him, and go to them with his story and his problem."

Reds Spurn B-50 Protest; U. S. Espionage is Charged

Lodge Scorns Attacks in UN

By KATHLEEN TELTSCH

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., March 23—The Soviet Union and Czechoslovakia took turns today accusing the United States in bitter terms of plotting against the Communist world by espionage, subversion and fifth-column practices—all financed out of mutual security funds.

The double-barreled attack—which brought two separate swift retorts from Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., United States chief delegate—seemed to dash hopes of those who were looking for a softer policy from the new Soviet government of Premier Malenkov.

LATEST CLASH

This latest clash was touched off by Czech charges—similar to those made by the Soviet Union at the sixth General Assembly session in Paris—that the United States was using money provided under the 1951 $100,000,000 Mutual Security Act to arm and pay anti-Communists, war criminals and traitors engaged in sabotage and espionage.

Specifically, Czechoslovakia asked the assembly to condemn these "acts of aggression" as interference in the internal affairs of the Soviet Union, Communist China and the Soviet bloc group.

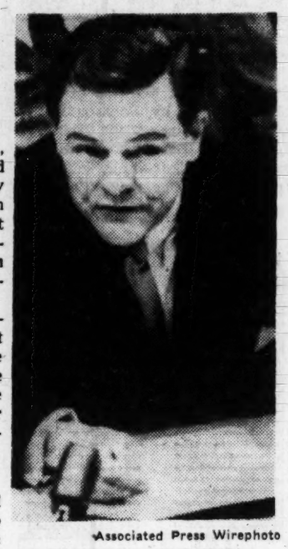

Taking up the charge of interference, Lodge told the assembly's political and security committee that the three-day seizure of Czechoslovakia by the Communists in 1948 was itself the most "flagrant" case in point.

HARSH EXCHANGE

"This Czechoslocak coup d'etat is certainly one of the most glaring examples of subversion in modern times. With this record hung around their necks, the present rulers of Czechoslovakia, who introduced this resolution criticizing the United States, do not come into court with clean hands. Their charge, therefore, are not to be believed."

MIGs Defended Border—Moscow

By THOMAS P. WHITNEY

MOSCOW, Tuesday, March 24 (AP)—Russia has rejected a U. S. charge that a Soviet jet fighter fired on a U. S. weather plane in the Far East near Kamchatka Peninsula March 15.

The note made a countercharge that the U. S. plane had violated the Soviet frontier and demanded the U. S. government take measures to prevent similar "border violations" in the future.

PROTEST REPLY

The Soviet rejection was in reply to a stiff protest which the U. S. Embassy in Moscow had filed March 18 with the Russian Foreign Ministry over the incident. The Soviet reply, the Moscow radio said, was delivered to the American Embassy Saturday.

The American protest said the incident had occurred 25 miles off the coast of Kamchatka Peninsula and about 100 miles northeast of a Soviet base at Petropavlovsk. The U. S. Air Force said the American plane, a B-50, was on weather reconnaissance when two Soviet MIG-15s appeared.

One jet stayed overhead, but the other swooped down in a firing pass, the Air Force said. The U. S. complaint said the American tail gunner, following the MIG with his sights, held his fire until the fighter opened with its guns, then returned the Russian's fire. The jet broke off, neither plane was damaged, and the American bomber returned to its Alaskan base, the U. S. said.

CLAIM VERIFICATION

Moscow claimed it had "verified data" showing that an "American bomber of the B-29 class" (the B-50 is an advanced version of the B-29) had violated the Soviet frontier twice on March 15.

"Good weather which in both cases enabled the crew of the (U. S.) aircraft to carry out visual reconnaissance on a large area excluded the possibility of a loss of orientation and confirmed that the above two cases of violation of the state frontier of the USSR were of a clearly premeditated character," the Soviet reply said.

Moscow said the Soviet fighters had taken off during the second alleged violation and that the U. S. plane had opened fire on them.

Soviet Drops Peace Cry; Slams Bonn

LONDON, March 23 (AP)—The Moscow radio suddenly switched off its peace propaganda tonight and lashed out on the old line, declaring the projected Western European army is an instrument of American imperialists.

Broadcasting in German, Moscow aimed this time for an audience in West Germany, whose Bundestag—lower house of parliament—has just ratified the army pact treaty.

It was Boris Leontyev, Russian commentator who flapped the peace dove's wing's hardest Saturday on the Moscow radio, who made the new attack tonight.

TREASON CHARGED

He said: "It is clear that those European statesmen who support the formation of a European army are guilty of national treason."

In the Saturday broadcast, Leontyev reminded the Russians and foreigners—as they have not been reminded by the Soviets for some time—that the U. S. and Britain helped Russia win World War II.

Tonight Leontyev was particularly harsh on West German Chancellor Kinray Adenauer's government, saying:

"BORROWED LIE"

"Adenauer justifies ratification of the European army pact by saying it is the USA that wishes it. He has borrowed from American propaganda that obvious lie that Western Germany is threatened from the East and forgets this lie was long ago disproved by the irrefutable facts of the Soviet peace policy."

Leontyev also claimed that ratification of the pacts would give them no legal and binding force.

U. S. Offers To Buy Beef For Schools

WASHINGTON, March 23 (AP)—The Agriculture Department today offered to buy unspecified quantities of beef for the government-sponsored school lunch program in a move to bolster sagging cattle prices.

It asked processors for bids on frozen ground beef, hamburger style, frozen boneless chuck for roasts, and frozen boneless diced beef for stew.

The purchases, if made, will be financed by funds the department derives from customs receipts for disposal of farm surpluses.

Similar offers to buy beef for Greece under the foreign aid program were rejected by the department last week because, officials said, prices asked were higher than those prevailing in the market.

In no case, the department said, will it pay prices for beef which reflect more than 90 per cent of parity for beef cattle.

First offers for the school lunch program must be submitted by noon, March 30, for beef for delivery during April.

At the same time, the department circulated a fact sheet about beef in which it urged consumers to buy more of this food.

Training Plane Crash Kills 4

COLUMBIA, S. C., March 23—(AP)—An Air Force training plane crashed in a woods 15 miles north of here early tonight, killing all four occupants. The plane was believed en route from Shaw Air Force Base, Sumter, S. C., to Donaldson Air Force Base, Greenville, S. C.

Lack Power, Is Lewd Book Board Plaint

By ALBERT RILEY

Georgia's newly created Literature Commission has a "conspicuous absence of power," its chairman, the Rev. James W. Wesberry, said Monday after a conference with Atty. Gen. Eugene Cook.

As a consequence, Wesberry said, the commission will proceed cautiously in its campaign to rid Georgia magazine stands of obscene literature.

He outlined five steps of procedure the commission will take, and disclosed that Atty. Gen. Eugene Cook has assigned Asst. Atty. Gen. Lamar Sizemore to aid in the work.

NO CENSORS

Wesberry, an Atlanta Baptist minister, and Hubert Dyar, Royston editor and member of the commission, reiterated that the commission is not a censorship board and has no power to make arrests or subpoena witnesses.

"The only power we have is to hear complaints, make investigations and make recommendations to solicitors general for prosecution," Dyar said.

The commission's procedure, he said, will be (1) to receive complaints, (2) get evidence, (3) make findings, (4) notify distributors of the offensive literature and ask their co-operation, and (5) to recommend prosecution if the distributors refuse to co-operate.

CRITICAL OF PRESS

The chairman was critical of press coverage of the commission's activities and of editorial criticism.

Declaring he believed newspaper stories about the commission had been "slanted" adversely, Wesberry said:

"I can't understand why so many fine, intelligent people want to confuse the public. . . . I can't understand why we can't get the co-operation of the press. I thought the press had some ideals and responsibility; I didn't know the press was against us."

The chairman declared that "I'm for purity and I'm not ashamed of my stand. I was glad to broadcast to the ends of the world my ideals of purity."

Taft Leads GOP Fight For Bohlen

Says McCarthy's Role Ridiculous

By WILLIAM S. WHITE
New York Times News Service
Special to The Atlanta Constitution

WASHINGTON, March 23—Powerful Republicans led by Senator Taft of Ohio put in today against Senator McCarthy of Wisconsin the first general and determined counter-attack ever made on him from within his own party in the U. S. Senate.

They accused him of striking actually at others—Secretary of State Dulles and President Eisenhower himself—in his campaign against Senate confirmation of Charles E. Bohlen, the President's choice to be ambassador to Russia.

They rejected—with expressions of open contempt in the case of Taft—McCarthy's demands that Dulles and Scott McLeod, the State department security officer, be required to testify under oath as to how Bohlen was "cleared" for loyalty and security.

NO REPLY

They declined to reply at all to McCarthy's suggestion that Bohlen ought to volunteer to submit to a "lie detection" test—a test to involve questions the precise nature of which McCarthy did not stipulate.

McCarthy, aided primarily by a right-wing Democratic associate, Senator McCarran of Nevada, fought back hard.

Tonight, at the end of the first day of Senate debate on the Bohlen nomination, Taft still held to his intention to bring it to a vote on Wednesday.

REVIEW SUGGESTED

In the meantime, however, he recalled that before the controversy had broken he had vainly suggested to the Senate foreign relations committee, which had the appointment in charge and ultimately recommended it 15-0 to the Senate, that it should designate two members to review the Federal Bureau of Investigation's documents on Bohlen.

The Bohlen issue had turned the Senate all day into an arena of restrained bitterness and there were three bursts of applause from the public galleries—the biggest for Senator McCarthy and the other two for speakers denouncing him or his position.

BACKGROUND

The background of the dispute is this:

McCarran and McCarthy have charged, and the Secretary of State has denied, that Dulles "summarily" overrode McLeod in clearing Bohlen before the foreign relations committee for loyalty and security by giving an evaluation of data collected by the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

Senator Wiley has taken responsibility for the fact that Dulles, and not the committee, did the evaluating.

Senator McCarthy, for his part,

Enemy Hurls 3,500 Troops At Bastions

By GEORGE A. McARTHUR

SEOUL, Tuesday, March 24 (AP)—The Chinese Communists early today overran much of Old Baldy in their heaviest attack in five months but U. S. 7th Division infantrymen surged back from the onslaught and rewon most of the battle-scarred Korean Western Front peak.

A report from the front said the 7th Division soldiers at midmorning had retaken Old Baldy except for one spur.

"Our boys are attacking the spur under cover of a big barrage of smoke shells," the report said.

Ethioplan and Colombian troops attached to the 7th Division joined in stemming the attack against the traditional Imjim River Valley invasion route to Seoul.

The Chinese commanders last night threw 3,500 troops at three Allied bastions guarding the ancient invasion route into South Korea.

Tremendous artillery barrages rocked the flaming sector throughout the night as Communist big guns roared out in fiery support of the major attack and Eighth Army artillerymen fought back to stem the tide.

Seventh Division defenders stood firm on T-Bone and Pork Chop Hills but recoiled for a time before the Chinese onslaught that swept in waves up Old Baldy.

Field dispatches said initial reports that Allied soldiers had been driven off nearby Pork Chop Hill, 3,000 yards west of Old Baldy, had proved erroneous.

While the attack was a big one, early reports indicated it was doubtful the Chinese intended more than a limited offensive at most.

Raises Up to 24 Pct. For DeKalb Teachers

Salary raises ranging from $52 to $250 per year for DeKalb County teachers were announced at a countywide faculty meeting Monday by DeKalb School Superintendent Jim Cherry.

Cherry emphasized the pay increase, to go into effect in September, is not a cost of living increase, but "part of a long-range plan established in 1948 by the DeKalb County Board of Education to provide an adequate salary schedule for its personnel."

JOINT EFFORT

In announcing the raise, Cherry, a past president of the Georgia Education Association, commented that "It will take the combined efforts of the state and local school systems to provide adequate teachers' salaries."

The new DeKalb raise, an average of $160 per year per teacher, for the 675 teachers the county will employ in September, will cost an estimated $113,000 annually, Cherry said. The pay hike represents a 24 per cent increase in the county's supplement salary schedule for 1953-'54.

The raise will mean an increase of from $2,500 to $2,552 for a beginning teacher with four years of college training and necessary professional courses. The salary schedule will go from $3,750 to $4,002 for a teacher holding a masters degree with 12 years' teaching experience.

PLANNED

Cherry related DeKalb's salary raise plan to "the increasing emphasis on long-range school planning all over Georgia," and said it was definitely a part of DeKalb's school planning program.

Previous teacher raises under the DeKalb program came in 1950, 1951 and 1952.

Wrong Pipe—6,000 Gals. Gas Down Drain

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio, March 23—(AP)—The driver of a gasoline delivery truck, stopping at a customer station this morning, stuck the hose into a sewer opening instead of the tank pipe. Six thousand gallons of gasoline went down the drain. Firemen had to open water hydrants for more than an hour to flush out the sewers. The gasoline was valued at $1,700.

Negro Seeks Writ To Get Ballot Spot

A Negro candidate for the Atlanta executive committee sought a court order to force the committee to call an election for its members Monday while 35 candidates qualified for municipal posts at stake in the May primary.

Roderick B. Harris of the Third Ward asked for the order in a petition to Fulton Superior Court after Committee Secretary N. T. Chambers refused to qualify four candidates, three of them Negroes. The committee voted last week against holding a committee election in May and voted to hold office as "de facto" members until Jan. 1, 1958.

Harris said he "has a public right to the election" and to have the names of candidates appear on the voting machines. A hearing before Judge Walter C. Hendrix has been set for April 6.

The would-be candidate also said Monday he was considering

K-F Buying Willys for $62 Million

NEW YORK, March 23—(AP)—Kaiser-Frazer Corp. completed negotiations here today for purchase of Willys-Overland Motors, Inc., thus becoming the fourth largest automotive manufacturer in the world.

Edgar F. Kaiser, president of Kaiser-Frazer, said the sale, for an estimated $62,300,000, is the largest of its kind in the history of the automotive industry.

Kaiser said his firm had obtained commitments for $72,000,000 in private capital to finance the purchase and to reduce Kaiser-Frazer loans from the Reconstruction Finance Corp. by a $15,000,000 cash payment.

The actual purchase will be made by Kaiser Manufacturing Corp., a wholly owned subsidiary of Kaiser-Fraser.

The new firm will rank behind General Motors Corp., Ford Motor Co. and Chrysler Corp.

Ward M. Canaday, chairman and president of Willys-Overland, who will become president of the new firm, said "the manufacture and sale of Willys products will be carried on with headquarters in Toledo."

Dim Figure in Coffin Comes to Life, Rises

The brother didn't want the visitor to enter the casket room and said so. But the visitor insisted and took a long look at the coffin figure.

At the urging of the visitor the "corpse" came to life and L. C. Copeland sat up in the coffin, Jackson police said.

The visitor was E. W. Russell, Yazoo City police chief, who had been alerted by Jackson police to pick up Copeland, charged with petty larceny and assault, M. B. B. Pierce, detective chief, said.

In a letter to Chief Pierce, the Yazoo City officer described how Copeland had posed as a corpse and stretched out stock still in the casket until the chief scrutinized him too carefully.

In his letter Chief Russell asked Copeland what he planned to do if a funeral was conducted for him.

"I'd a letum know befo' I got to de graveyard," the officer quoted Copeland as saying.

Jackson police wanted Copeland for allegedly attempting to drain a gasoline tank and resisting patrolman W. N. Everett with a knife.

Help of Hiss for UN Job Hunters Despite Superiors Told Probers

WASHINGTON, March 23—(AP)—A State department security officer testified today that Alger Hiss spurned the advice of his superiors and sent an unauthorized list of job seekers to the United Nations in 1946.

William L. Franklin, special assistant to the department's security chief, made the statement to a House judiciary subcommittee investigating alleged Communist infiltration of the world organization.

No evidence was produced that Hiss, then a rising young State department official, tried to "stack" the UN. He later was convicted of lying when he denied passing secrets to a Red spy ring.

Franklin said Hiss submitted at least 284 job applications to the UN, of which only six were accepted. Franklin said that to his knowledge none has become a "public issue." Three still are with the UN.

He said the State department political affairs office, then headed by Hiss, supplied the names of 193 government employees available for part-time UN work. Of these, he said, 32 still are with the UN or other international organizations and five have become "public issues."

The subcommittee is headed by Rep. Kenneth B. Keating (Rep., N. Y.).

From 1946 to 1949, the State department observed a "hands-off" policy toward Americans in UN jobs. Later it began to supply confidential reports on those suspected or disloyalty.

Keating had charged last year that Hiss took part in the conference at which the policy was adopted. But James F. Byrnes, then Secretary of State and now governor of South Carolina, denied that in a letter made public today.

Byrnes wrote the subcommittee the decision was "reached individually by me," that he held no policy meeting and never discussed it with Hiss.

He said he felt since the State department had no power to fire UN employees it should not assume any responsibility for their hiring.

It was before that policy was adopted that Hiss sent the UN the names of job applicants.

Rent Curb Extension Until Oct. 1 Sought

End of RFC June 30, 1954 Agreed by GOP Leaders

By JOHN L. CUTTER

WASHINGTON, March 23—(UP)—President Eisenhower and GOP congresional leaders agreed today to press for extension of federal rent controls until Oct. 1 and to abolish the controversial Reconstruction Finance Corporation June 30, 1954.

Plans to continue rent ceilings long enough to let states take over if they wish, and to end the world's biggest lending agency, were announced after the weekly White House legislative conference.

LEADERS AGREE

House Speaker Joseph W. Martin said House and Senate Republican leaders agreed, at Mr. Eisenhower's suggestion, to seek a five-month extension of rent curbs beyond their present April 30 expiration date.

He said the plan is to end overall federal rent ceilings Oct. 1, but to continue ceilings in so-called "critical" defense areas after that.

A definition of other "critical areas" where controls would continue still must be worked out, Martin said.

TARGET OF CHARGES

The decision to let the depression-born RFC die when the present RFC law expires apparently spells finis for the multi-billion dollar lending agency—target of "influence" charges in recent years.

Martin said liquidation of the agency will start quickly. He said about half its offices throughout the country will be closed in the next 60 days, and no more loans exceeding $1,000,000 will be made.

Republican leaders said they intend to keep federal loan functions in some limited form, probably as part of the Treasury, but confined to helping small business.

Martin said the decision does not rule out the possibility that the RFC will go out of existence sooner than June 30, 1954. Senator Byrd (Dem., Va.) has introduced a bill to kill it Dec. 31, 1953.

It was agreed at the White House conference that Secretary of Commerce Weeks and Treasury Secretary Humphrey will work out the small business loan program.

Lie's Daughter Plans To Stay as American

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., March 23—Miss Guri Lie, 27, daughter of Secretary General Trygve Lie, will become an American citizen and remain in the U. S. after expiration of her father's term in office, she said today.

She made a trip to Canada four days after Lie announced his resignation in a plenary session of the general assembly last Nov. 10, and received there her number on the Norwegian immigration quota. Her final papers will be issued in five years.

50 More Indo Units, Clark Aim

HONG KONG, March 23—(UP)—General Clark arrived here today en route to Tokyo from a four-day inspection of the fighting in Indochina and said he would recommend the United States help equip 50 battalions of Vietnamese to fight the Communists.

Before leaving Hanoi, the United Nations supreme commander in Korea said he had not gone to Indochina "to teach my French and Vietnamese friends what to do, but to hear and see with my own eyes. What I saw really impressed me."

He said on his arrival here with Mrs. Clark he would "need a few books" to set down all he learned about the war in Indochina. He said the war was entirely different from the one in Korea since the French union forces "have the enemy all around them while in Korea we have only one front." Despite that, Clark said he could "see no end to the fighting in Korea."

Clark was met at the airport by Lt. Gen. Sir Terence Airey, commander of British forces in Hong Kong, with whom he served in Italy during World War II.

Clark said he was "highly impressed" by the Vietnam soldier.

Before leaving Hanoi he told a press conference:

"Here and in Korea we fight the same contemptible enemy. The technical aspects of the two conflicts are different although we must consider both wars as part of one struggle.

"My government must help peoples who help themselves in a war against the common enemy."

He termed a "happy measure" the decision of the French and Vietnam government to create 50 light Vietnam battalions to fight the insurgents and relieve part of the French Expeditionary Corps.

Baker Authors Bill To Prevent TVA Transfer

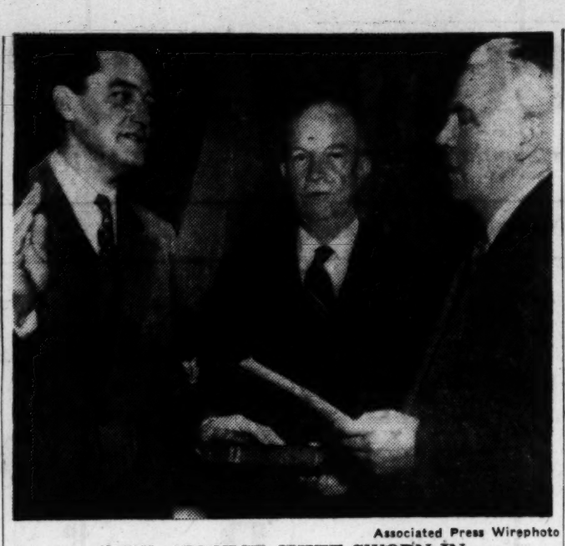

WASHINGTON, March 23—(AP)—Representative Baker (Rep., Tenn.) today introduced a bill to prevent movement of headquarters of the Tennessee Valley Authority from Knoxville, Tenn., to Muscle Shoals, Ala.

The TVA announced at Knoxville last week that headquarters would be transferred to the Alabama city. Baker said approximately 500 Knoxville families would have to move to Muscle Shoals if the order is allowed to stand.

His bill would amend the TVA act to provide that the principal offices shall be in the immediate vicinity of Knoxville. It would further specify that the agency shall be considered an inhabitant and resident of the eastern Tennessee judicial district.

CIVIL SERVICE CHIEF SWORN IN
Philip Young, Eisenhower, Frank Sanderson

Ike Pledges Cleanup Of the Incompetent

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH

WASHINGTON, March 23—(AP)—President Eisenhower pledged today to rid the government of all "incompetent, dishonest or disloyal" employees.

There are only a few in those categories, the President said, and they must go because "there is no other way to win for the vast majority of competent and devoted public servants the public honor that is due them."

TO MAKE POLICY

Eisenhower set forth his views in a prepared statement after watching Philip Young sworn in as a member of the Civil Service Commission. The President immediately appointed Young chairman of the commission.

"Serving in that capacity, he is to be my chief representative and overseer on all civilian personnel matters for which the president is responsible," Eisenhower said.

That seemed to indicate that Young may be given policy-making supervision of the new loyalty-security program being drafted by the administration. An outline of the program has been circulated among heads of the various government agencies.

"HIGH REGARD"

The President's statement today amounted to a reiteration that he is determined to have the executive branch handle the problem.

In his statement, Eisenhower said he wanted federal employes to understand "the high regard and appreciation I hold for their public service." He added:

"One of the firm purposes of this administration is to strengthen the career service, so that it may command the esteem of the whole nation. It is essential, in the highest public interest, that the privileges accorded conscientious civil servants be guarded by a strong merit system. I intend to see that they are guarded zealously."

Girl Prisoners Battle Police With Glass; 2 Are Injured

SANTA ROSA, Calif., March 23—(UP)—Rioting broke out anew at California's "model" girls' reformatory today as 50 teen-aged delinquents battled police with slivers of glass.

Police said the latest flare-up at the Los Guilucos school for girls was broken up after more than an hour. Authorities sent 38 troublemakers to the Sonoma County jail.

One girl inmate was seriously cut and an officer injured by flying glass.

Today's rioting paralleled the rampages of last Thursday and Friday which resulted in $4,000 damage to the school and injury to more than 30 girls.

As a result of the disturbances, more than 30 per cent of the school's 159 inmates have been transferred to the county jail and Napa state hospital in an attempt to segregate the ringleaders.

Survival in New War Could Hinge On Standby Control Plan, Says Baruch

By CLAYTON KNOWLES
New York Times News Service
Special to The Atlanta Constitution

WASHINGTON, March 23—Bernard M. Baruch told Congress today the very survival of the nation could hang on establishing standby authority and machinery to invoke price, wage and other economic controls that would be needed immediately in the event of all-out war.

Warning that the next war is "likely to explode all in a big smash," the 82-year-old counselor of congresses and presidents, speaking his piece on economic regulation for the fourth time in a generation, said:

"There can be only one military plan that any enemy plotting our destruction can have. And that is to overwhelm us before our gigantic productive energies can have been converted from peace to war. If another war comes, we will not have a year or two, while western Europe stems the foe, to debate what we should do.

"There may not even be a Pearl Harbor—a blow which falls upon an outlying post and which, while hurting us, sounds the alarm for immediate and concerted action."

In asking Congress to set up this standby mechanism, Baruch described the course as an "elementary precaution" that, by narrowing the gap in mobilization, could become a "vital measure of defense."

He testified before the Senate banking and currency committee, now entering upon the fourth week of hearings on twin proposals for establishing standby controls authority and machinery.

Urging enactment in one parcel of the best features of these bills, offered by Senator Capehart of Indiana, the banking chairman, Baruch specifically recommended training key personnel for the controls agency in advance of any emergency.

"I would like to see top-calibre men and women from every segment of the economy serving with this mobilizing agency for say eight months," he said. "They would spend the first four months in intensive study of our mobilization plans and procedures and the last four months breaking in their successors."

Ground-Breaking To Herald 3 Fulton School Projects

Ground-breaking ceremonies this week will bring to 25 the Fulton County school expansion projects started since December.

More than $946,000 in buildings will be started this week. The figure is divided among two new schools and one addition.

All are part of a 29-project program financed by the $2,000,000 September bond issue and state school building authority appropriations.

At Roswell, a new high school will be started at ceremonies at 10 a. m. Tuesday. The school will cost $488,887.

In Sylvan Heights, ground is scheduled to be broken at 10 a. m. Thursday for a $297,439 elementary school.

Mayor T. Ford Rucker of Roswell and Mayor Al Roberts of East Point will preside at the ceremonies.

Fulton County school officials announced that an addition to Hammond Elementary at Sandy Springs was begun Monday. It is to cost $160,068.

The Roswell and Sylvan Heights contracts call for the completion in 320 calendar days. The Hammond job is to be finished in 180 days.

State Patrol Plans School For Rookies

A training school for new Georgia state highway patrolmen will be held for about five or six weeks at Madison in late April and May, Col. W. C. Dominy, state director of public safety, said Monday.

Colonel Dominy said about 35 of the state's 310 troopers have never before had such training.

Plans for the school were discussed at a meeting of the public safety commission which includes the governor, director of public safety, adjutant general, chairman of the State Highway Commission, attorney general and comptroller general.

The commission was told that the department of public safety needs expansion room at the headquarters in the old Confederate Soldiers Home.

For a Toothy Junior, Diet, Bristles After Every Meal

By MARJORY SMITH

Want Junior to keep his teeth longer than you did? Send him to the dentist early and often; watch his diet, and see that he brushes his teeth immediately after eating.

That's the advice of Dr. George W. Teuscher, internationally known leader in the field of children's dentistry, who is pleased to point out that his own two youngsters now aged 11 and 8, "have never had a cavity."

Dr. Teuscher, professor of pedodontia at Northwestern University and president of the American Society of Dentistry for Children, addressed delegates to the 41st annual meeting of the Fifth District Dental Society's Thomas P. Hinman Mid-Winter Clinic here Monday.

Southeastern dentists, opening a three-day session at the Municipal Auditorium, also heard the president-elect of the American Dental Association, Dr. L. M. Fitzgerald of Dubuque, Iowa, flay foes of water supply fluoridation.

CHAMPIONS FLUORIDATION

Dr. Fitzgerald declared opponents of fluoridation were "spreading unsupported charges and assertions deliberately designed to cause confusion and doubt." He asserted fluorides in drinking water can reduce dental decay by two-thirds and said "reputable health organizations all over the country have approved the measure."

With or without fluoridation, parents can help save Junior's teeth, Dr. Teuscher said.

The expert advised parents to take children to the dentist "at least by the time they are two years old, when the average child has from 16 to 20 teeth."

Because Junior's teeth decay at a more rapid rate than do adults', Dr. Teuscher said, the youngster's visits should be made every three or four months, rather than every six months.

EARLY TEETH IMPORTANT

"Contrary to the belief of many persons, a child's first teeth are not all lost early in life," Dr. Teuscher pointed out. "Some serve him into early adolescent years, and it's important that they be kept in good condition."

Educate Junior to eat wholesome, nutritional foods, the dental leader suggested. Just as important, educate him to brush his teeth immediately after eating.

"If you wait longer than three minutes after finishing a meal to brush the teeth, you're not doing much good," Dr. Teuscher declared. He suggested that parents "set an example and save their own teeth by brushing right along with Junior."

State Okays Negro Boys School at Alto

The idle facilities at Alto, formerly a state tuberculosis hospital, will be used as a training school for Negro boys, under an arrangement worked out Monday by Governor Talmadge and state institutional officials.

The present training school for Negro boys, operated by the State Welfare Department near Gracewood, will be utilized for expansion of the Gracewood home for mentally defective children.

Alto was closed as a tuberculosis hospital soon after World War II when the state acquired a larger facility, Battey State Hospital at Rome, from the federal government.

Located in the foothills of the Blue Ridge mountains near Cornelia, Alto was subsequently used as a treatement center for venereal diseases until that program was discontinued several months ago.

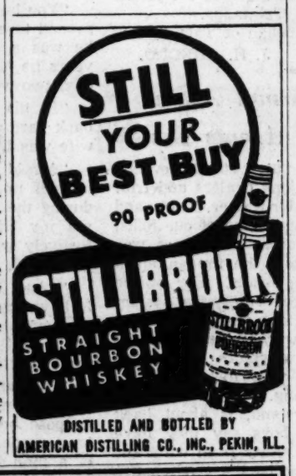

Alto is a considerable distance from any other medical center, but Governor Talmadge said it would be an ideal place for a training school. The property includes a 600-acre farm, a dairy and facilities for poultry production.

Charlie Brown Club Formed In Kirkwood

Ninety-six Kirkwood residents Monday night formed a Charlie Brown Club and laid plans to canvass the neighborhood to enlist support for his candidacy for mayor in the May 13 city primary.

C. R. Mallory, chairman for the meeting, said Brown met briefly with the group, and heard them announce a slogan of "It's time for a change."

J. H. Manley served as cochairman and W. C. Harrison as secretary. Future meetings of the group are also planned, Mallory added.

The shape of Easter . . .
slim as a lily-stem

Here's the straight news from Paris for your Peachtree Easter Parade: the silhouette is straight and slim as a lily-stem; bodices are gently rounded for a wide-at-the-top look. Davison's Georgian Room interprets this lovely flower-and-stem fashion in murmurous silk shantung, in wools so sheer they fairly float. Wear one and go strolling on Easter Sunday morning. And just watch those snap-happy photographers go into action.

Yours for a Beautiful Easter . . . Davison's Georgian Room, Second Floor

Bloomin' Bower

If you think you have trouble growing your little plot of flowers, come peek at the biggest Flower Show this side of Magnolia Gardens. It's growing right on Peachtree in Davison's "In the Pink" Festival of flower-hued accessories. From Ellis Street to the Roxy, we're plastered in posies—frankly phony, but big as life and twice as handsome. Bowers of flowers bank our windows and blossom inside the store in gay carts and rose-wreathed columns. Every flower lover should see it. You'll agree with the unofficial judges who awarded us a Blue Ribbon for "the prettiest bouquet ever pinned on Peachtree."

Youngest 'Teachers'

It happened during Apple Week. Three venturesome High School boys were shaking down apples from the tree on Davison's sidewalk, planted there to welcome the G. E. A. Mission accomplished, they wheeled around to face the cold, accusing look of their math teacher. "Well, boys, how long have you been teaching?" she asked, in her sternest classroom voice; The boys turned red as their apples; two of them backed away sheepishly; the third boy caught the twinkle in her eye, grinned disarmingly and offered her his stolen fruit. "Have a bite, Ma'am," he said. Next thing we saw, teacher and pupils were strolling chummily together through our Peachtree door—mouths full of apple.

Terry-fic

The rise of the Stole is the most dazzling success story since Grandma Moses. Actually, it started with a Grandma, in a sit-by-the-fire shawl. Today, look what's happened: the Stole is 'in the Mink', in fabulous jeweled wools, in precious silks—and now, by gum, in Terry. The fabric 'ooks like a beach towel, but the resemblance ends there. These are strictly from Vogue, fathoms-deep in fringe (well 5 inches deep anyway), with dots big as the dollar used to be, or in bold Navajo stripes. No smart seaboard siren will be caught out in the sun without one, so get yours for just 7.98 in Davison's Sea Island Shop, Second Floor.

A wee story

Last Tuesday, a lady so tiny she might have doubled for one of the 'little people' came to our Sample Shoe Sale. She bought 13 pairs of Cinderella size 4-b shoes. As she was leaving she said, "This is my annual shopping spree; my husband's an Irishman and on St. Patrick's Day he's so full of blarney he doesn't mind my bills!"

P. S.—Bet he learned about blarney from You, Ma'am.

Let's Listen to Baruch's Wisdom

Bernard Baruch has been right so many times that we've lost count. As an adviser to Congress and Presidents, he has proved himself to be one of our most valuable citizens. More often than not, when his advice has been disregarded later events proved him to have been right.

That's why his statement before the Senate banking and currency committee Monday calling for standby authority and machinery for economic controls to be set up for instant use in an emergency carries such great weight.

We have only to look at what happened after outbreak of the Korean War to see the value of his reasoning. Then, Mr. Baruch called for immediate controls. However, Congress haggled for months and then it was additional months before controls actually were in operation. By that time, the situation was out of hand and we have paid for it in disastrous inflation and added costs of defense.

Like most of us, Mr. Baruch is opposed to government controls in time of peace. However, we know that in time of war they are necessary. So, with his vast experience and great wisdom, Mr. Baruch asks: "Are we to take the elementary precaution of writing into law now what we know would have to be done in event of emergency? Or shall we neglect this vital measure of defense, and, in doing so, increase the risk of war, add to the toll of dead and wounded if war does come and make inflation certain—all needlessly?"

He warns that "to wait is to die." He adds that the pattern of any mobilization "is set by the very first decision. When war breaks or seems imminent, the normal workings of supply and demand suddenly go haywire. Speculators and hoarders rush in to corner materials they believe will be scarce. Prices skyrocket. It is not too long before the economy is out of control."

We have witnessed these things happening. We know they do happen. We also know that our economy has been battered rather terrifically in two wars. Why, indeed, should we not set up a standby program that we know we must have in time of emergency or war?

And the time to accept such advice from Elder Statesman Baruch is now.

May Atlanta Have Respectable Campaign

The starting gun in the City of Atlanta's 1953 primary election was fired early Monday with the opening of the entry lists. By next Saturday noon, when the lists close, opposition is expected in each of the 27 races for city office, from the mayor's seat to school board membership.

After qualification, there will be 45 days of active campaigning up to the eve of the May 13 election. The people will enjoy it, all the sound and fury concomitant to their periodic privilege of choosing the officers by whom they will be governed. The 1953 primary will create unusual interest because it is the first full dress vote under the Plan of Improvement.

As was expected after the city executive committee arbitrarily suspended a vote on its own membership, the committee secretary refused to qualify candidates for committee posts. The aspirants have carried their request to the court, as is their right.

Once the ticket is complete, our fervent hope is that all candidates will make their races clean and fair, that they will refrain from smearing the issues with the brushes of personality and race.

An election is democracy in action. The conduct of an election campaign reflects a people's ability at self-government.

Let's make Atlanta's clean and decent, worthy in every respect of a clean and decent city.

Would Ike-Malenkov Talks Be 'Secret'?

The UN, as well as many other sources within and without this country, feel that a conference between President Eisenhower and the new Russian premier, Malenkov, would be a good thing. Although all of us favor negotiations that would lead to an easing of the tensions in the cold war, experience of the past would lead us to approach any such meeting with extreme caution.

Agreements with Stalin were as so much paper. We, therefore, must expect the same from his successor. Until Malenkov shows a willingness to live up to commitments, we would be foolish to accept anything except ironclad contracts.

And then, too, the GOP Congress seems intent upon campaigning from now on out on the conferences Roosevelt and Truman held with Stalin.

Does it not follow that any other negotiations or "secret" agreements by their Republican successor would be seized upon as avidly by the Democrats? It seems that the only thing that would satisfy some members of Congress would be for Malenkov to come to Washington and personally negotiate with each member thereof. And that, of course, is not likely.

One thing would favor Eisenhower, however, in any conference with Malenkov. After the Roosevelt-Truman experiences, he should be able certainly to avoid such carefully laid traps as the wily Stalin set. However, it would be much more difficult to avoid those set by the McCarthys in Congress to discredit anything and everything of a constructive nature that any administration in power tries.

At any rate, the GOP Congress is in a peculiar position of being opposed to negotiations with the Communist dictator under the Democratic Presidents, while it must now make up its mind about whether to approve such negotiations under a Republican. Under the circumstances, the resolution scoring "secret" agreements appears even more ill-timed and should be allowed to expire quietly.

GOP Means Business In Georgia Elections

For once we find ourselves in hearty agreement with Sen. Bob Taft in hailing efforts of Republicans to elect two new commissioners for Muscogee County, Ga., in balloting slated Wednesday.

We agree, too, that any "thinking American citizen would welcome enthusiastically the inauguration of a real two-party system throughout the South." We are in favor of that and have done what we could to promote a genuine two-party system. We have been encouraged by the sincerity and the success with which Elbert Tuttle, state GOP chairman, and his coworkers have gone about their tasks.

Although unacquainted with the candidates and the issues in Muscogee, the fact that the GOP entered candidates is worth noting and worthy of commendation. We're glad to have this evidence that the Republicans mean business in Georgia and that they're building from the county level—the ultimate source of political strength.

Atlantans Retain Red Cross Title

Once again, Greater Atlanta successfully has defended its Red Cross "championship"—first city in the United States to meet its quota in the annual fund campaign.

Raising $565,000 in the few days allotted to the drive is laudable in itself. Setting the pace for the entire nation is an honor which entitles us to pat ourselves on the back.

There was neither time nor reason for that during the campaign. Attaining that $565,000 quota was no pushover. But thorough coverage by the campaigners and a generous response by our citizens did the trick.

We congratulate the campaign chairmen, Donald Oberdorfer, G. Arthur Howell Jr. and James M. Sibley, and all their helpers. They have contributed notably to a great cause and have brought distinction to our metropolitan community.

Dahlonega Primes For Tourist Trade

Dahlonega's latest idea for a project in the Champion Hometown Contest is a good one. It fits one of the major premises The Daily Times has always stated as essential for a tourist development program.

Dahlonegans are posting signs at historic places in the community, seeing that roads and streets are named and marked and further making their effort significant by labeling the streets with the names of pioneer residents of the community.

A tourist wants to know where he's going and what he's seeing. He might cruise by Dahlonega and never realize he was seeing a town so rich in history and folklore. The investment of imagination, time and energy in such projects throughout all of northeast Georgia would have a marked effect on tourist interest in the region.

Bohlen See Hiss' Power With FDR?

WASHINGTON, March 23—Charles E. Bohlen may be the man the President and the Secretary of State think is qualified to go to Moscow at this time as the American ambassador because he speaks Russian and has some diplomatic experience. But a lot of Americans will wonder if someone else who was not entangled in the controversies of the previous administration might better have been chosen.

For the record of the part that Alger Hiss played at Yalta as given by Bohlen in his testimony either indicates that the late Edward R. Stettinius, in his book on Yalta, made a faulty presentation or that Bohlen is much more concerned with minimizing the part played by Alger Hiss than in giving the same picture that Stettinius did.

At the outset of his testimony to the Senate foreign relations committee, Mr. Bohlen said the Stettinius book "is a scrupulously accurate account of what actually transpired at Yalta." But what Mr. Bohlen said later on isn't quite in accord with what the Stettinius book indicates.

Thus, Mr. Bohlen says Mr. Hiss dealt with United Nations affairs at Yalta "and confined his activities to that." Mr. Bohlen emphasized that Mr. Hiss wasn't present at the Roosevelt-Churchill-Stalin meetings, but he seems not to have recognized the powerful role Hiss played as an adviser to President Roosevelt.

Bohlen said "Hiss was there, as an adviser to the Secretary of State, and his part in it dealt virtually exclusively with the United Nations business."

Secretary Stettinius in his book, on the other hand, speaks of reviewing with Matthews, Hiss and Foote on his way to Yalta "the questions reserved for subsequent discussion with the President at Malta."

Writing about the consideration of the Polish boundary, Mr. Stettinius says: "During one adjournment that afternoon the President asked me to get a lawyer to consult with him over the wording of the Polish boundary statement. I called Alger Hiss and while the two of us were trying to work out a solution for the President, Roosevelt suddenly looked up at us and said, 'I've got it.' "

Mr. Stettinius had unbounded confidence in Alger Hiss, and says he "always had reason to believe that Hiss acted honorably and patriotically." He adds:

"Shortly after I became Undersecretary of State, I called on the FBI to conduct a security examination of the State department. Assistant Secretary of State G. Howland Shaw served as liaison with the FBI during this examination. I never heard of any questioning of Mr. Hiss' loyalty."

What are the facts? Whittaker Chambers in his book says he told about Hiss in 1939 to Assistant Secretary of State Adolph Berle, who talked to President Roosevelt about it, and the latter pooh-poohed it. Then in 1941 the FBI took up the trail against Hiss.

If the State department high officials can be duped once, they can duped again, just as the officials of the British foreign office have been duped by Communist agents in recent years.

Small Business Needs a Friend

WASHINGTON—Small business is truly a feller that constantly needs a friend in this maze of a city to see that it gets some share of the billions of business at the disposal of our government, which is now the world's largest buyer of machinery, equipment, supplies and services. At stake, in fact, is the actual survival of small business. During the Second World War and since, it has watched anxiously as great industrial corporations, with commensurate political influence, fattened and got bigger on war and defense contracts. Many small businesses, on the other hand, disappeared; either just gave up the ghost, or surrendered and sold out to the giants. That is a distinctly unhealthy trend toward monopoly which is a threat to our supposed free economy.

What it takes here is somebody who will stick up and fight constantly with the contracting agencies of the various military services. That somebody has been around in what is called the Small Defense Plants Administration, an independent agency created by Congress in July, 1951.

The task still is hard, and the issue of a continuing and alert spokesman here for small business is up for decision right now and in a double-barreled way. In the first place, the SDPA expires under law on July 1, unless extended, and, secondly, the RFC, which has been a chief source of small business financing, is apparently due for abolition by Congress in the near future.

There is no question, seemingly, that some sort of agency to protect and promote small business' interest will be continued. The argument is over its nature, its power, and whether it will be independent or stashed away in a regular government department. The President now is under pressure from sponsors of various proposals.

The President has before him a recommendation from the President's committee on government reorganization, headed by Nelson Rockefeller, for continuation of SDPA, or its successor, as an independent agency, but envisaging eventual inclusion in the Commerce department by appointment of a directing head who could develop a favorable situation for embodying it in the department.

A review of SDPA's history seems to indicate very clearly that what success it has had is due to its independent status, directly under the President. In that role, it can present its case without the restraints imposed upon an agency that operates as part of, or subordinate to, a regular department.

Cole as Housing Administrator Is Like John L. Lewis as Wage Head

Mt. Vernon, N. Y.—President Eisenhower has appointed ex-Congressman Albert M. Cole of Kansas to be administrator of the Housing and Home Finance Agency which handles our public housing program. The federal housing program is the only agency through which low-income people can get decent, modern housing.

Mr. Cole is a strong and determined opponent of public housing, on the ground that it will lead to socialism. He asserted in a speech in the House on Jan. 22, 1949, when the housing program was being debated, "It tends to destroy our government. . . . A very interesting thing is that in 1928, before either Democrats or Republicans thought about it, the Communist Party included public housing in its program." Thus he attempted to insinuate that public housing will lead to communism and is in fact communistic.

Mr. Cole is so reactionary on housing and other issues that he was one of the few Republican congressmen to be defeated by a Democrat in the recent election, despite the Eisenhower sweep.

Appointing such a man as Mr. Cole to head the government's housing program is like appointing John L. Lewis to run the Wage Stabilization Board, or making William Z. Foster, or some other Communist, chairman of the government's Loyalty Review Board. It is clear that President Eisenhower intends to scuttle and destroy our public housing program or else he is incredibly ignorant of his appointee's voting record. ALFRED BAKER LEWIS.

Brenau Teacher Defend Social Science Studies

Gainesville—In regard to Mrs. G. W. H.'s letter, "Unscientific Social Sciences Called Notable Cause of Modern Discontent:" As "science," the social sciences are certainly new and the social scientist certainly knows it. But is the writer of the letter criticizing the research being done, the attempts to test hypotheses, the attempt of social scientists in various areas to communicate their findings to one another, their failure to spread knowledge among laymen, the failure to provide adequate college curricula in social sciences or the "cultural lag" in translating research findings into action?

The letter writer endorses the "real science" of chemistry. But if she calls politics a reflection on political science, then she should call the meals fed the children in our nation a reflection on chemistry. Political science establishes that a government exists in time and space; it knows that history does not repeat and it only predicts such things as that the violation of certain principles will undoubtedly result in people incapable of choosing wisely or abiding by choices.

I would like to challenge some of the people who so glibly talk about "failures" of this and that—including education—(assuming they have some background in the field they are discussing) to stand ready to defend some of the projects intended to test theories in social sciences.

Administration Is Proving Attractive to Women

Atlanta—Ike is attracting more women to Washington than a lingerie sale on pay day. Since Mrs. Oveta C. Hobby was appointed to a state position, I'd say this could be the first occasion on which the PTA has lost a prospective member to a government Form 57. A woman's place is no longer at the kitchen cabinet, but in the Eisenhower cabinet. Give me the old-fashioned girl of the 40's who was satisfied with a softball bat and an acetylene tourch.

He Sees 'Religious Trend' In Dr. Jones' Statement

Marietta—I am a former resident of Greenville, S. C., and since I am old enough to have observed some "religious trends," I would like to express acceptance and approval of your editorial opinion that "dogmatic religious bigotry of the sort demonstrated by the attack on the President and the church he attended does more to drive people away from organized religion than the work of seven devils working overtime."

A contrast between Dr. Bob Jones in a business office or a civic club or even the halls of Congress with a "Bible under his arm," preaching hell's fire, the fear of death, the uncompromising wrath of God, on one hand and a minister in a house of God preaching the love of God as Jesus taught it, the promise of forgiveness when we sincerely ask for it, on the other, surely expresses a "trend," a trend that I for one, can do without.

Atlantan Says She Awaits Reduction in Milk Prices

I'm waiting for milk price reduction.

With pastures now green, undoubtedly the cost of producing milk has been lowered, so why not reduce milk prices accordingly? MRS. H. W. BARROW.

Pay Boost for Talmadge, Other Officials Is Rapped

Atlanta—Governor Talmadge betrays a cynical and deceptive mind when he says he "signed with reluctance" the bill increasing the pay of elected state officers, including himself. No candid man who himself grabbed an increase in his own exhorbitant pay should have the nerve to says he increased his own pay "with reluctance."

Talmadge now draws $12,000 annual salary—his own increase under the bill signed "with reluctance" now gives him $16,400 annually. On top of that he gets $12,000 for annual expenses for the governor's mansion, making his total income from the state now $26,400 annually. I say he is overpaid. Georgians are just about tired of Talmadge, and if he thinks he is going to succeed either George or Russell in the Senate, he is going to be fooled.

Talmadge is in favor of giving himself a grab of the taxpayers' money, and helping his pals out, but he doesn't want the badly paid school teachers to get even a living income. One good, experienced teacher is really worth more to the future of Georgia than any Talmadge.

Georgia has got enough of Talmadge.

Meriwether Normal Again With Revenue Agents Gone

Greenville—When the state revenue agents, disguised as junk dealers and fruit peddlers, worked in Meriwether County and made 120 cases against some of our folks, it caused more confusion than there was among the woodpeckers the time a black snake crawled in one's hole. For awhile it looked like our free enterprise system was gone, but conditions are much better now since our judge warned these folks not to come back here anymore using such tactics to intimidate poor folks trying to make an honest living.

Business, I understand, is about back to normal and the boys say they have nothing to fear now, either from within or outside the county, and have a good chance to win back first place that they lost to Upson County and which Upson later lost to Spalding County. BILL FLYNN.

Youthful Dreams, And Now Reality

I am writing these words on the campus of Wofford College in Spartanburg, S. C. A story keeps coming to my mind. Once a man was looking through some old keepsakes and found a picture of a boy. For a long time he looked at that picture and thought about it. He thought of the dreams and ideals of that boy, of the kind of man he wanted to grow up to be. Then he kept asking, "Have I kept faith with that boy?" For it was a picture of himself.

As I walked the paths of this campus this week I have been looking closely at a student who was here exactly 20 years ago. I remember him well—tall and skinny, not too serious and liked a good time. Some of the ministerial students felt he was not very pious, and he wasn't. I remember the night he got his fraternity pin. How proud he was, and the next day he mailed it to a pretty girl back in Georgia. He didn't get his pin back until he married the girl.

I have visited the room in the dormitory where he roomed and thought of the "bull sessions" that were held there nightly. I remember how he would wait until late at night to study and would go to class sleepy the next morning. How the dean reprimanded him severely for cutting chapel. I remember the letters from the girl back in Georgia. The boys called such letters "sugar reports."

Mostly though I have been dreaming the dreams that he dreamed. He had only one ambition and that was to be a preacher. He believed that the problems of the person and of the world would be solved if only people knew the real Jesus. He thought of Jesus as a friendly, happy man who liked to go to parties and who loved little children. Of Jesus who was kind to those who had sinned but who harshly condemned hypocrisy.

Twenty years have gone by and the man is now painfully conscious of the fact that his accomplishments have not measured up to the dreams of the boy. He has been a preacher those years, but not as good a preacher as the boy wanted him to be. There have been times when he has not represented his Christ as he might have. He has said and done things he should not have; sometimes he has manifested an unchristian spirit.

This week some lines from Edwin Markham have come to mind: "Ah, great it is to believe a dream—As we stand in youth by the starry stream;—But greater it is to fight life through,—And to say at the end, 'The dream is true.' "

I am here to conduct Religious Emphasis Week, to preach to the students and to counsel privately with many. I have talked to them about Christ and their relationship with Him. But all week I have been asking myself, "Have I kept faith with that boy's dreams?" The student 20 years ago was I. I have promised him I will do better by him from now on.

If Only Will Had Left a Will

This corner is highly dependent on its friends. One of them is Marion Roberts of LaGrange, insurance agent and friend to man. When Marion chose insurance, journalism lost a good reporter and commentator. But the good man at LaGrange keeps his hand in the game as an amateur by editing his civic club's paper, "The Lion's Roar." In the current issue, Marion carries these appealing paragraphs:

"You have seen Will around town. For years he was a yardman, but for the past 10 years he has been too feeble to work. He died two weeks ago.

"In his middle age Will lived in the back yard at the home of my friend. His wife was the cook, he, the yardman.

"Afraid of the elevator, Will dragged himself up the stairs about once a week during the last several years of his life to see my friend, his friend. One day he furtively pulled out $400 and left it with my friend, 'To put me away nice,' he said.

" 'And, Mr. Ralph,' he said, 'I want you to have my house. My wife done left me. Anyhow, she didn't care nuthin bout me. I don't want her to have it. She left me. I want you to have it, Mr. Ralph.'

"Of course, 'Mr. Ralph' would not agree. Will died without having made a will. But suppose he had? What a story it would have made. We Southerners think nothing of a man leaving a heritage to a faithful Negro employee. But wouldn't the Pittsburgh papers get a shock to find a Negro employee leaving his entire property to his white friend?"

STAFF REDUCTION: The 50 per cent slash in State Merit Board personnel has aroused much comment. Some say the cut is warranted in the name of economy. There are others, including us, who see it as highly arbitrary and unwise.

One thing is sure, though. The drastic reduction has precedent. Remember when Georgia fired half its governors?

Youths, 19, Face April Draft Here

Georgia's April draft quota will be partially filled with 19-year-olds for the first time since the outbreak of the Korean War.

Legally 18½-year-olds are eligible for draft but this will be the first time Georgia has had to dip into the 19-year-old group to fill the quota, Lt. Col. William Crawford, state procurement officer for Selective Service said.

Colonel Crawford believes that only a few 19-year-olds will be needed to reach the April quota of approximately 1,000 but more may be needed later.

The Georgia boards have followed a policy of calling only men in the 20 to 26 age group as long as possible Crawford stated.

Georgia has obtained its quota in the last few months by re-examining 4-F's and finding enough older men eligible. Older men are always called first, the official explained.

Crawford emphasized that the policy of calling 19-year-olds was originated in Washington.

5 Ky. Police Here To Study Safety Setup

Members of the newly formed safety education division of the Kentucky State Police arrived in Atlanta Monday to study methods of the Georgia State Patrol safety education division.

Each of the five visiting officers was assigned to a regular officer of the Georgia safety education division, Lt. Col. E. S. Burke, chief of the Georgia section said. They will work in this state during the remainder of the week.

Heretofore, one man has carried on safety education work in the Kentucky State Police, assisted by troopers in the field who were not specifically trained for safety education.

Cpl. R. J. Moser, head of the Kentucky division, said Georgia was selected as a model for Kentucky because of the national recognition this state has won in the field of safety education.

In addition to Moser, the visitors include Troopers A. G. Evans, R. J. Snapp, Dan Wright, and Campbell Lockhart.

Pictorial Report On Fulton Due at Printer in Week

A pictorial report for 1952 on Fulton County government is expected to be in the hands of printers by the end of the week.

The county will distribute 10,000 copies of the report. Under the contract the printers have 30 days to publish the report.

On 52 pages of slick paper, the brochure will explain both courts and administrative departments. It is being prepared by Paul Hedden, under supervision of A. E. Fuller, county manager, and the county commissioners.

Starving Child's Parents Charged

CAMDEN, S. C., March 23—(INS)—Warrants charging cruelty were issued today against foster parents of a three-year-old child who was found laying helplessly in a crib alone in a Camden home.

Officers secured a warrant to search the home after receiving information that the child had not been seen for two years. Officers said the child was unable to walk. A physician diagnosed the case as acute starvation. The child weighed 13 pounds, eight ounces.

Police Chief Alva Rush said warrants charging cruelty to a child were issued for Robert and Bertha Blunt, who occupied the apartment.

Rock Eagle Park Asset for Youth

By M. L. ST. JOHN

We had expected to see home wooden cottages and rough camping equipment when we drove to Rock Eagle 4-H Club Center, now under construction near Eatonton. We were surprised when J. W. Brittain, Eatonton businessman, drove us into the gigantic development for a look around.

This is going to be a permanent set-up; not an outdoor camp for roughing it. There are modern concrete block houses. They have two rooms each with bunk beds to accomodate eight youths. They have a room for the supervisors. They had about four showers. And they have a large living room. The completed "cabin" which we inspected was well equipped with a sort of modernistic-type furniture in the living room.

M. L. St. John

We saw only six cottages in a cluster. But there were a bunch of clusters around the huge lake and in the woods which we didn't see. Each of these clusters will accomodate 100 persons. We saw on the map shown us by Mr. Sims of the prison camp which is working on the project, the layout for the tremendous dining hall. It will feed 1,250 persons simultaneously. That's no small number.

We got only a brief glance at the big project, because it was raining when we came. But we learned that 22 of the 72 cottages are nearing completion. The project won't be ready for total use before the summer of 1954.

It represents an investment in human resources by Governor Talmadge, the State Department of Corrections, the Soil Conservation Service, the College of Agriculture, University of Georgia, the Board of Regents and the Agricultural Extension Service and private sources. Even the briefest of glances showed us that this is going to be a great asset for the farm youth of our state.

State Sen. John Stoddard, editor-in-chief of the Washington News-Reporter, lists a new potential candidate for governor next year. He says it is possible that Harold Saxon, secretary of the Georgia Education Association, who has been the dominating influence in the fight for teachers raises, will wish to make the race himself. It also is possible Saxon will try to get someone to run on a GEA ticket pledging a 10 per cent pay hike, Stoddard says. The senator warns such dabbling in politics will hurt the school program. In the past, the GEA has sought to pledge all candidates to supporting better schools.

Political retaliation sometimes can go to extremes. An Atlanta lawyer, who has been active in state political circles, is the object of a weird form of retaliation.

Someone impersonating this attorney placed an advertisement in the paper the other day offering "special rates" for veterans. To the layman that probably means nothing. But to the bar associations, it is unethical for lawyers to solicit business by advertising. The lawyer says a political goe obviously was trying to get him in trouble with the Bar Association.

Pistols Are Barred

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., March 23—After the battle of the itchy franchises at Tampa and St. Petersburg, after Casey Stengel's double talk in the Yankee hospitality corner and after fitful chatter about what color a Brooklyn third baseman should be, the elegance and the dignity of the Atlanta Crackers' minor league household was a joy to a tiring tourist. On this artificial island of artificial people with real money, the encampment that Earl Mann conducts appears to be one of the few things that has a solid air about it.

The night was closing in and the boy athletes were in from the field a few blocks away. Most of them had eaten and a few of of them shuffled through the hotel lobby vigorously plying a a toothpick between their teeth.

Bisher

There's something sort of democratic about the toothpick, though there's a time and a place for the crude little instrument. Farmers use them, and jockeys and millionaires. It carries me back to the wheat-threshing days, after the big dinner, and the weary farmhands, chaff still clinging to the sweat spots on their denim shirts, coming forth from the table artistically probing their teeth.

Here were the Cracker athletes with another day's work behind a full stomach beneath their belts posing for this trade-mark of contentment.

They stood about the potted palms and sat on the overstuffed chairs and talked about new heroes that Ponce de Leon Park has yet to see. You heard about Bill Denney, a bright right-hander who won 16 games at Evansville, and Jesse Levan, a mighty monster who has been terrorizing pitchers around here, and Monk Raines, a little ex-quarterback with thinning hair who has control, and Bill George, a left-hander Mann finally caught after two years of dickering. Art Flower and Junior Wooten sauntered by.

"Not so sure I didn't like first base after all," muttered the Wooten.

—Blanton Got Some Quiet With One Shot

There's something about where the Crackers hang their hats, a place called the Boulevard Hotel. Something besides the characters who inhabit the place, the chorus girls, some tall and willowy and some tall and bosomy, and the entertainers with a gimmick, and the just plain characters.

A few seasons before they struck Du Pont gold and were able to move out of rundown Baker Bowl, the Philadelphia Phillies stayed here while they trained on the same field the Crackers now use. They were the Phutile Phils in those days, living from hand to mouth, dodging dispossession only by the production and sale of star performers.

They also did a thriving business in retreads, and some on whom the fabric had worn so thin they were past retreading. One of these was Cy Blanton, who had come up to Pittsburgh in 1935 and won the earned-run title of the National League as a rookie. It was his first and last claim on glory, for Blanton was a wild creature from Waurika, Okla., given to rough living and frequent violence.

He was traded off to the Phils in 1940, but never could recapture the Blanton he'd been chasing since his first season. One spring evening, after most the Phils had retired to their rooms, happy just to be in the major leagues, four gentlemen across the hall from Blanton became engaged in a card game. The conversation and the exchange of coin finally annoyed Blanton, who had become slightly embalmed. He always kept a gun handy, just in case he met an umpire with faulty eyesight. In his rage, he whipped out the gat, turned it on the door of the facing room and fired.

"How about a little quiet in there!" he roared.

He went back into his room, closed the door and went to bed. He got his quiet, but he never got his man. The four card players scattered like a flushed covey of quail. And the bullet never found home.

—A Young Man Who's Got Everything

Pistols are not allowed in the Cracker camp. This rule has not been written in by boy manager Gene Mauch. It is the result of a sort of a gentlemen's agreement between the pitchers. There are so many sharp wheelers and dealers here that there has been constant fear of loss of a candidate or two by methods other than intense competition.

"That's one thing we got for sure," said Mauch, watching through the batting cage net. "Pitching. Look at this kid. He's got more stuff than anybody here."

This kid was Taylor Phillips, the left-hander from Douglasville. There was a time when Skipper Bartlett's scouting catch appeared to be sure for an engagement with the military. But an examination exposed him. He has cornered the market on all deferring ailments, such as heart murmur, perforated eardrums, shin splints and hoof and mouth disease. He's still healthy enough to fool the hitters though, and he'll get his chance. He rates as the most promising long-range prospect in the vicinity.

There will be many more attractions added to this aggregation, perhaps Dick Sinovic, Jack Parks, Billy Smith, Jim Basso, maybe Pete Whisenant. But without these flashes, the character of the Crackers in '53 is already established. Lively, fiery, exciting, a team with a personality.

Rupp Suit Called Off By Athenian

Big Mistake, Says Husband

ATHENS, Ga., March 23. (AP)—The plaintiff in a federal court lawsuit filed at Lexington, Ky., which asked damages of more than a half million dollars for alleged gambling losses, Monday she ordered her lawyer to drop the suit.

W. Lee Bradberry, husband of Mrs. Lucille Chumbley Bradberry of Athens, told of his wife's decision.

The suit, filed March 20, named Adolph Rupp, University of Kentucky basketball coach, gambler Frank Costello and Ed Curd, reputed former Lexington bookmaker, as co-defendants. The action was filed in behalf of Mrs. Bradberry's brother, George Chumbley, who allegedly lost money in gambling operations which the suit said were conducted by Curd.

Mrs. Bradberry asked $573,257.79, which is triple the amount the suit said was "lost in betting and gambling with the coconspirators in the City of Lexington and in the City of Richmond."

Bradberry commented:

"So far as my wife was concerned, she never had a suit. J. A. Edge, a Lexington attorney, asked her to be a party to this suit. We answered his letter and told him we were not interested in filing the suit."

Bradberry said he and his wife thought the incident was closed. "We were amazed," Bradberry said, "when we read in the papers the suit had been filed last Friday."

At Lexington, Edge said he still intended to press the suit.

As for Rupp, Edge said the coach is not an "essential party" but that Curd is.

"If Rupp wants to be let out," he added, "we'll let him out, but not at any sacrifice. And if he wants to fight, we've got plenty of ammunition to fight him with. And we're good marksmen."

Roberts Hurls, Bats Bulldogs Over FSU

Georgia Takes 3-0 Decision As Seminoles Suffer First Loss

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., March 23—(AP)—Pitcher Jack Roberts was sharp on the mound and at bat Monday as he led the University of Georgia Bulldogs to a 3-0 baseball victory over Florida State University here.

The senior righthander from Gainesville, Ga., gave up only five hits, struck out 11 Seminoles and drove in Georgia's final run in the ninth inning with a triple — the only extra—base hit of the game.

Jack Roberts

It was the first loss of the young season for FSU, which had won its first two games. It gave Georgia a record of three wins against a single loss.

Roberts' control was exceptional. Usually a late-season star slow to round into form, he walked only three Seminoles this game.

Three Bulldogs got two hits apiece. They were Roberts, second baseman Nathan Williams and shortstop Reggie Andrews.

Billy Maxwell and Six Lose Amateur Standing

DENTON, Texas, March 23—(AP)—Six members of the national championship North Texas State College golf team and Billy Maxwell, former National Amateur champion, were notified Monday night that they have lost their amateur standing.

The action against Maxwell, 1952 Southern intercollegiate champion, and Joe Conrad, Don January, Marion Hiskey and Stan Mosel was taken by the USGA because of a trip to the Mexico City Amateur tournament in 1952, for which the USGA claims, they did not pay their own expenses.

Two other students—Bobby Maxwell, Billy's brother, and Ray Ferguson—were notified of their loss of amateur standing because they accepted money to teach golf to students.

Cobb said that the charges were not soundly based because the youths had received athletic scholarships and that they were instructing golf classes as part of their work under the scholarships.

SOUTHERN ASSOCIATION PRESIDENT CHARLIE HURTH VISITS CRACKERS

Crax Head Earl Mann (L) and Manager Gene Mauch Enjoy Chat and Miami Beach Sun

Charlie Williams Nails Down Cracker Keystone Assignment

Petty, Wooten Get Mauch's Seal of Approval; Sinovic, Basso, Whisenant Wanted for Outfield

By JESSE OUTLAR
Constitution Sports Writer

MIAMI BEACH, March 23—After drifting around the Atlanta Cracker infield as a utility man for two seasons, Charlie Williams has won a regular job.

Manager Gene Mauch, prior to sorting his squad Monday, gave Williams permission to hang out his shingle at second.

"The job belongs to Williams on the basis of what he's shown here," Mauch said, "and it's up to the other guys to beat him out.

Williams has looked okay on the double play," Mauch continued, "and his arm seems strong enough to make throws from second. I like the way he bats, and he's had a lot of experience to be only 23."

The loquacious infielder broke in with DeLand in '46 and is launching his eighth season. Banner year on the Williams calender was 1950. He drove in 150 runs for Thibodaux, struck 24 homers and clobbered Evangeline pitching to the tune of .381.

Purchased by the Crackers, Charlie hit .252 and .272 in two campaigns at Poncy.

Unless the Milwaukee Braves unbuckle another top notch infielder, Williams' main competition will come from rookie Jack Caro.

If the Pensacola flash clicks, Mauch might shovel Williams off second. It's doubtful whether Caro can hit Southern Association hurling and he'll probably wind up in Jacksonville.

Mauch also put the official stamp on Vern Petty as the Cracker third baseman Monday, but no one had expected Petty to be ousted.

HE'S IN

Crax' Charlie Williams

He labeled Junior Wooten as the only outfielder in camp that has passed the spring test. This means, of course, that the outer gardeners must be imported from Milwaukee and Toledo.

Dick Sinovic, who topped the Crackers in five departments a year ago; Jim Basso, a .313 stickman with Atlanta, and Pete Whisenant are the men Mauch wants.

The Cracker skipper says Ralph Kennedy is still in the running, but Ralph's fate seems to hinge on catching help acquired from the Braves. Both Jack Parks and Jim Solt may be back.

Though he's pleased with his pitchers and calls this the club's "brightest spot," Mauch wants to watch them against major league clubs before making any choices.

"You don't know what kind of hitters they've been facing," Mauch cautions, "and you can't discount the fact that open center-field background hurts the batters in Flamingo Park."

"On what they've shown down here," Gene remarked, "you figure Art Fowler, Bill George, Leo Cristante, Jack Taylor, Mike Forline, Bill Denney and Monk Raines head the list. But I'm not picking my pitching staff yet."

"If we opened the season today," Mauch said, "then Jesse Levan would be at first. But if I get the outfielders I want, Wooten probably will be shifted to first."

Sima, Dixon Stop Yankees

Erskine Goes All the Way And Shackles Athletics, 8-0

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 23—(AP)—The Washington Senators overwhelmed the New York Yankees, 9-0, here Monday as Al Sima and Sonny Dixon, a pair of rookie pitchers, combined for a six-hitter.

The Senators specialized in long-ball hitting, six of their eight safeties going for extra bases. Jackie Jensen, Gil Coan and catcher Les Peden hit homers. Mickey Vernon and Wayne Terwiliger smacked triples, the latter hitting his with the bases full.

The Yankees failed to move a runner past second base. Sima gave up four hits in six innings and Dixon allowed just two hits in the final three.

Jim McDonald, who had not yielded an earned run in 15 previous innings for the Yanks, was hit hard in his seven innings on the mound.

Ray appeared for the deposition Monday as directed by federal Judge Philip L. Sullivan. Robinson climbed the 21 flights to the office of Seymour Simon, attorney for the plaintiff. The ex-champ's attorney, Vincent D. McConnell, said elevators nauseate Robinson.

"He walked back downstairs, too," the attorney added. Robinson planned to return to New York by train later Monday.

The retired middleweight champion had pleaded illness when he was to appear here for the deposition March 16. But Simon said he hired a private detective who found Ray tap dancing that night in New York City.

Worsham Captures Jacksonville Open

Shoots Four 68s To Edge Jim Ferrier by One Stroke

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., March 23—(AP)—Lew Worsham shot his fourth straight 68 to fight off a closing birdie barrage by Jim Ferrier Monday and win the Jacksonville Open golf tournament with 272.

Worsham birdied four holes on the second nine when he knew the pressure was on. His winning score duplicated the tournament record for Hyde Park municipal course set by Ferrier two years ago at 16 under par.

Ferrier then had four straight 68s as Worsham did this time. Ferrier carded eight birdies Monday in a round of 66 that went with his three 69s for a 273 total.

Tommy Bolt, who started the day tied with Worsham for the lead, displayed plenty of temper—the reason they call him Thunder—and finished third with 275. His final round was 71.

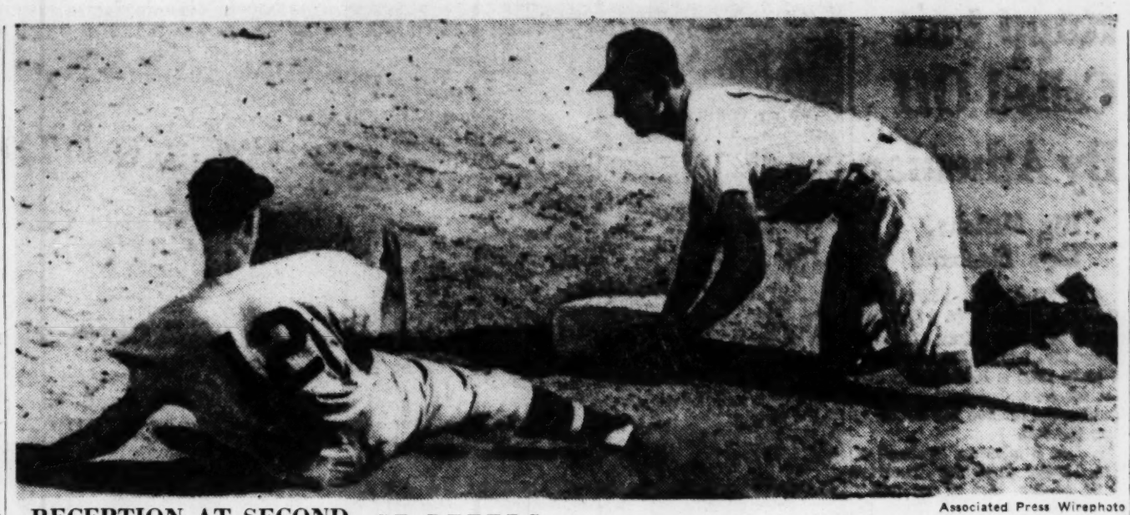

Worsham was runnerup here in 1947, the year he won the National Open. He is host pro to the National Open at Oakmont, Pa., again this year.

"I knew I had to finish one under par in the last three holes," Worsham said after it was all over and he had gotten a big kiss from his wife at the 18th green.

Ferrier, San Francisco veteran whose putter was going great, had finished by that time. Worsham slapped his tee shot squarely in the middle of the 16th green and sank a 12-foot putt for the birdie deuce he needed. Then he calmly hit the 17th and 18th greens and two-putted them for pars.

"I didn't play quite as well through this round as I did the other three," Worsham reported, "but I got to putting well on the back nine."

Money winners:
Lew Worsham, 68-68-68-68—272, ($2,000); Jim Ferrier, 69-69-69-66—273, ($1,400); Tommy Bolt, 68-66-70-71—275, ($1,000); Fred Hawkins, 65-69-72-70—276, ($800); Marty Furgol, 67-71-70-72—280, ($650); Jay Hebert, 66-72-70-72—280, ($650); John Barnum, 68-72-73-69—282, ($480); Jim Turnesa, 68-70-73-71—282, ($480); xFrank Stranahan, Toledo, 71-70-70-72—283; Freddie Haas, 71-68-71-73—283, ($325); Sam Snead, 69-67-77-70—283, ($325); Max Evans, 70-70-73-70—283, ($325); Al Brosch, 73-71-70-69—283, ($325); Jimmy Clark, 70-69-71-74—284, ($240); Chandler Harper, 74-71-69-71—285, ($158); Dave Douglas, 70-73-64-78—285, ($158); Charles Harper, 69-69-70-77—285, ($158); Art Doering, 67-75-70-73—285, ($158); Doug Ford, 70-73-71-71—285, ($158); Fred Wampler, 71-70-72-73—286, ($110); Skip Alexander, 73-68-71-75—287, ($100); Jackson Bradley, 72-68-73-74—287, ($100); Mike Homa, 68-72-70-77—287 ($100).

'SUDDEN-DEATH' PLAYOFF

Suggs Downs Rawls In Spartanburg Meet

SPARTANBURG, March 23—(AP)—Louise Suggs defeated Betsy Rawls in a sudden-death playoff here Monday to win the first annual Peach Blossom-Betsy Rawls Invitation Open golf tournament.

Miss Suggs, the Atlanta miss who is leading the Ladies' Professional Golfers Association this year, and Miss Rawls, who earned the most money in 1952, wound up the 54-hole tourney in a 216 deadlock.

Miss Rawls missed a three-foot putt on the first playoff hole that would have given her the par five and first place.

Miss Suggs sank a four-footer for a par four on the second. Miss Rawls' putt stopped almost on the rim of the cup.

The victory was worth $875 to Miss Suggs. Miss Rawls collected $630.

Playing on a rain-soaked course, Miss Suggs turned in the day's low score, a one-over-par 72.

Mrs. Jackie Pung, the pace setter at the end of the first 36 holes, scored a 78 Monday.

The money winners:
Louise Suggs, 68-76-72—216, $875 (won playoff); Betsy Rawls, 69-72-75—216, $630; Jackie Pung, 69-70-78—217, $490; Beverly Hanson, 73-72-74—219, $385; Betty Dodd, 73-72-75—220, $315; Marilynn Smith, 73-70-79—222, $245; Babe Zaharias, 73-74-74—221, $148.75; Betty Jameson, 71-77-75—223, $148.75; Alice Bauer Hagge, 75-75-74—224, $96.25; Patty Berg, 73-77-74—224, $96.25; Peggy Kirk, 73-77-75—225, $70; Betty Mackinnon, 73-78-77—228, Marlene Bauer, 75-82-79—236, Ann Breault, 77-79-87—243, xMyrl Riccoboni, 81-95-89—265, xGreta Leone, 87-89-94—270; xSara Zimmerman, 85-96-91—272, xEm Palmer, 93-97-99—289.

O'Sullivan Captures North-South Over Faulk

Regains Title She Held Two Years As Thomasville Entry Slips Badly

PINEHURST, N. C., March 23—(AP)—Pat O'Sullivan of Orange, Conn., led all the way Monday to defeat Mary Lena Faulk, 2 and 1, and win her third North and South Golf championship tournament in four years.

Pat dropped a 12-footer for a winning birdie three on the first hole. From there on there appeared little doubt that she would regain the title she held for two years before losing to Barbara Romack of Sacramento, Calif., in last year's finals.

Pat O'Sullivan

Mary Lena, from Thomasville, Ga., failed to reach the form she had displayed in earlier rounds. She was not nearly so sharp on the greens. She played near par most of the time since last Thursday, but Monday she was four over on each side.

Pat, meanwhile, matched women's regulation 37 on the front side of the No. 2 course of the Pinehurst Country Club and slipped four over for the eight holes played coming home.

Her front side performance left her three up as she won the first, fourth, sixth and ninth. Mary Lena took only the fifth with a par five when Pat was in the rough off the tee and trapped on her second.

Pat wobbled momentarily on the back side, opening with a pair of sixes. But Mary Lena also needed six when trapped on the long 10th. The Georgian won the par four 11th with a five, however, as the rough and another trap again cost Pat.

The Connecticut woman went back to three up with a winning par four on the 13th as Mary Lena found a trap. The lead went back down to two on the par five 14th as Pat three-putted for a six.

Then the two 26-year-olds settled down to some of their best golf as the rain clouds which had hung overhead all day threatened to open up. Each parred the 15th, 16th and 17th to end the match. Pat finished with a flourish on the par three 17th. She spanked her tee shot some 25 yards from the pin on the well-trapped green. Mary Lena, meanwhile, had found a trap. She came out nicely and then Pat hit the cup with her first putt and Mary Lena conceded the match.

Stetson Nine Beats Jackets in Opener

Hatters Take 8-6 Verdict; Teams Play Again Today

Special to The Constitution

DE LAND, Fla., March 23—Two Stetson freshmen teamed to spoil Georgia Tech's baseball opener Monday. The Hatters belted the invading Jackets, 8-6.

Charlie Mainwood worked a five-hitter for five innings and held a 6-3 lead over Coach Joe Pittard's Atlantans when he went out in favor of Eddie Gilliland. Gilliland gave seven hits the rest of the way.

Dan Theodocion

Dan Theodocion, Tech's sophomore catcher, rapped a double to start a Tech rally in the ninth inning, but it fell short with only one run across the plate.

Bobby Hudson was the leading hitter for Tech on three hits in four trips. Theodocion, Jimmy Rogers and Chappell Rhino each bagged two hits.

The teams meet again Tuesday. Tech moves on to Winter Park against Rollins Wednesday and Thursday, then meets Florida in Gainesville Friday and Saturday.

Publinx Name Mauldin Head For 1953

By BERT PRATHER

Marshall Mauldin, long one of the biggest boosters of municipal golf in Atlanta, was honored with the presidency of the Atlanta Publinx Golf Association at the organization's annual meeting Monday night at Bobby Jones Golf Club. He succeeds Skip Merriam.

Charlie Ozmer, former Philadelphia Phillies pitcher and a veteran tournament player, was elected first vice president in charge of tournaments, while Jack Lively of North Fulton Golf Association, was named second veep and is charged with the duties of securing trophies for publinx tournaments.

Abe Massar of Bobby Jones Golf Association, is the secretary and treasurer.

The association voted to hold its annual City publinx championship, a 36-hotel medal play affair, May 22 at Adams Park golf course. The sectional qualifying for U. S. Publinx Championship, is scheduled for Bobby Jones course Monday, June 22. Lester Kelley, standout member of the University of Georgia's golf team, is defending champion in the city tournament.

The National publinx tournament is scheduled for Seattle, Wash. The organization plans to stage nearest to the flag or hole-in-one tournaments at the various city courses as a means of raising funds to send the team to Seattle. Dates of these latter meets will be left up to the various clubs.

Beckers Top Mat Card

Strong DeKalb Circuit Begins Play April 7

By BILL McGROTHA

Baseball entries in the DeKalb County League, one of the fastest high school circuits in the state, open a 56-game schedule on April 7, two weeks away.

The eight teams of the loop will each play 14 games. The seven-week season closes May 21.

Opening-day clashes send Chamblee to Clarkston, Druid Hills to Stone Mountain, Lithonia to Southwest DeKalb and Tucker to Avondale.

All games are scheduled to start at 4 p. m. each playing date. But a home team may change to night games (7:30) by notifying the visitor. Avondale, the defending state Class A champion, will play several night games. Southwest DeKalb will probably play some under the arcs, too, but there are no plans for other teams to play home contests at night.

First division teams last season were Avondale, Southwest DeKalb, Tucker and Stone Mountain, in that order. Avondale, host to the state A tournament, won it by taking all three of its matches in the double-elimination event. Tucker participated in the Class B eliminations, was ousted by Milton.

SOUTHERN ROUNDUP

Chicks Win Players, Lose Game

Condensed From Wire Services

Memphis' Chicks had a busy day on the Southern Association training camp front.

First, they acquired catcher Darrell Johnson and first baseman Ken Landenberger from the parent Chicago White Sox.

Second, they shifted their opening game with Chattanooga from April 10 to April 11 to avoid conflict with the nationally-televised Jersey Joe Walcott-Rocky Marciano fight for the heavyweight title.

Third, they lost a 7-2 exhibition game to Fort Worth at Ft. Pierce, Fla. as rookie pitcher Dick Strahs was clipped for five walks and three singles that brought in five fourth-inning runs.

Fort Worth (T)	101 500 00—	7	10 3
Memphis (SA)	002 000 000—	2	4 2

Van Cuyk, Ceccarelli (7) and Olsen; Miller, Strahs (4), Staton (7) and Pinciotti, Davis.

Scoring five runs in the last two innings, Nashville broke open a tight ball game for a 7-1 victory over Sioux City at Melbourne, Fla. Three Vol pitchers gave only three hits.

Sioux City (IH)	001 000 000—	1	3 3
Nashville (SA)	101 000 23x—	7	7 0

Birkeland, Broadway (4), Burke (7) and Uriage, Schmidt; Mallory, Yochim (4), Sherman (7) and Novotney, Pottinger. WP—Mallory; LP—Birkeland. Home run—Sioux City: Lasala.

Lenny Lamont socked a two-run homer in the eighth to give Mobile a 5-4 victory over Montreal at Vero Beach, Fla. Ken Fustin started for Mobile and hurled five scoreless innings, allowing only back-to-back singles in the second.

Montreal (Int.)	000 003 100—	4	8 1
Mobile (SA)	000 102 02x—	5	5 1

McCoy, Vercrouse (4), Thomas (6), Nicolis (6), Samson (8) and Ronning, Dabek (6); Fustin, Jones (6) and McLeold, Bard, Lindeman.

Manager Mayo Smith sent rookie catcher Joe Pruett in to pitch in the 10th inning and the venture was just what Louisville needed to take a 5-3 exhibition triumph over Birmingham at Ocala, Fla.

Tommy O'Brien's triple had brought the Barons from behind to tie it at 3-3 in the ninth. When Smith sent Pruett from behind the plate to the mound, Louisville quickly locked it up on a walk, triple and a fly ball.

Louisville (AA)	101 000 100—	3	4 1
Birmingham (SA)	000 000 012—	3	8 3

Smith, Brake, Haas, Wilson and Sadowski; Robbins, Rossman, Williams, Pruett and Pruett, Westrum.

Chattanooga's defending champs fattened-up as parent Washington sent down outfielder Buck Varner, pitcher Levi Fleshman and catcher George Bradshaw to the Lookouts. Verner hit .290 for Chattanooga last season. Fleshman started the season with the Lookouts but moved on to Charlotte where he finished with a 3-3 record. Bradshaw hit .324 at Charlotte last season.

Veteran shortstop Alex DeLargarza asked Little Rock to place him on the retired list. He said he had a good job in San Antonio and wants to stay. Little Rock officials indicated they would leave the matter open for awhile.

WANTS 50-50 RECORD

Druid Hills Expects Stronger Team Than Novice '52 Crew

By AL THOMY

Coach Elmer Morrow and his Druid Hills High School baseball team aren't setting their sights too high for the '53 season.

"Last year I figured if we won one game we would have a successful season," explained Morrow Monday night. "We won one and lost 13. This year I think a 50-50 record would give us another respectable season."

Does that sound like the Druids have their target too low?

Let Morrow tell why:

"Well, we started baseball here at Druid Hills last year for the first time since 1947. Our program was set up so we started with the young boys, hoping they would grow into the positions and give us a fairly good team in a year or two. This year we will naturally be better since the youngsters will have had a year of experience."

The Red Devils did themselves proud last summer. Five of the boys who broke into the game under Morrow continued their play with American Legion teams, and improved greatly. Catcher-pitcher Donnie Flonk and outfielder Red Ivey were two of the top hitters on the Legion team, while Lefty Bob Payne was the No. 1 pitcher.

Russell Jessee at first, David Schaefer at second, Bob Thompson at short, David Rolston at third, Flonk catching, and Ivey, Bill Rickett and either Bruce Eastwood, Glenn Haldi or Arnold Amorose in the outfield.

On the mound will be Payne, Ted Cooper or Amoroso, the latter two being righties.

This Amoroso lad is quite a versatile baseballer. When he isn't in the outfield, he may be pitching, and when Flonk is on the mound, he probably will be catching.

"He's big and strong," says Morrow.

Flonk was leading hitter in 1952. He gave the ball a ride for a .350 average. Following him was stocky Ivey, a .312 batter. Flonk goes for the long ball, while Ivey is a spray hitter.

There are only two seniors on the club this year, Flonk and Jessee, who, incidentally, were the two boys who brought the Class A basketball championship to Druid Hills. If they do half as well in baseball, the Druids will have a successful season. The rest of the team is composed of five juniors, eight sophomores and two freshmen.

So the Druids will probably make a little noise in the future schedule of the 2-A and DeKalb County conferences.

One thing is certain: They can't do much worse than last year's team.

Trout Become Fair Game on April 1 When Georgians Flock to Fishing Spots

One week from Wednesday—weather, the Lord and my editor willing—I'll join several thousand other Georgians in search of the trout in Georgia's swifter, clearer, colder waters.

For, on April 1, they become fair game in Georgia. For many, they are the fairest game of all—anytime. I'm sure I won't be the only one who hits the stream with a supply of red wigglers, back-yard night crawlers and crickets strung in tobacco tins from the various hooks and rings of my vest.

Allen

Far from trying to justify the ancient and honorable practice of worming for trout for the disdainful purist, I simply say that I prefer not to return fishless.

First, however, there are three wet flys that I prefer to any other on opening day: The mickey finn, grey ghost, and (you should excuse the expression, Sen. McCarthy) the bolshevik. They are NOT bulky bucktails, but sleek minnow-like steelhead-type streamer flies on smaller No. 8 and No. 10 hooks.

Fished upstream and allowed to "swim" back, they produce. But if they fail, then an alternative is the eelet on spinning tackle, (especially if just after a good rain), and in the afternoon, in desperation, something from the live bait can.

It's more than a little tempting to carry those worms and not use them. And, even though I agree that it's more fun to fool them—the most fun is catching them.

LINES OF REVIEW: In connection with the above mentioned fondness for live bait, there is an article in the March, 1953, issue (just out) of Southern Outdoors by Georgia's best known bass killer, Robert Lee Dodd, who mainly throws chunks of wood into bonnets for large and smallmouth bass but in his spare time coaches a football team out on Fourth St., N. W.

Coach Dodd gladly accepts consignment to the nether regions by spinning and fly rod purists, without a fight. But he says that bait casting for bass in Georgia and Florida is his idea of the most competitive (between fish and man), the most relaxing (full of satisfaction) and the cleanest sport of all—his "First Choice for All-America" in short. It's a great article by just another man who loves fishing.

Not up to the standards or size of Charlie Elliott's "Gone Fishin," but the best small book to hit the market for beginners (wives, daughters and sons, that is) came to this desk over the week end. It was "Sportsman's Digest of Fishing" by Hal Sharp. He knows what he is talking about, and the little manual is profusely illustrated—about the size of a Boy Scout manual and 250 pages long.

As an afterthought, in reviewing books, I never get past the paragraph that throws hokum in a man's face. I quit and hide the book from angling friends. Recently, one came that said "nothing will ever replace the old bamboo rod . . ." That's ridiculous, because it's already been replaced by metal and glass in baitcasting and is fast on the wane in fly and salt water angling.

SHORT CASTS AND THE CREEL: Atlanta's fast becoming headquarters for sporting magazine contributors and conservation leaders . . . Our Jack Hogg has one of the great all-time outdoor magazine covers on the April Outdoor Life, the background of which reminds us of a certain place on the Soque River in Habersham County . . . Fred Missildine of Sea Island was named on Jimmy Robinson's all-America professional skeet team.

CRACKER DIARY

Heavy Feet May Hamper Mauch Men

MIAMI BEACH, March 23—Lack of speed is one of the major handicaps the Atlanta Crackers must overcome this season.

Billy Barrett

It was obvious to onlookers that this was no band of speed merchants even before scout Walter Widmayer got out his stop watch.

Clocker Widmayer discovered that Junior Wooten and Bill Barrett are the only Crackers who can hoof it from first to home in less than four seconds. They registered :3.9. Manager Gene Mauch and Homer Moore hit four even, and big Moose Womack required :4.7 to negotiate the short distance.

Mauch named Art Fowler and Leo Cristante to hurl for the Crackers in their Florida exhibition finale Tuesday against Baltimore here. . . . After the game, Mauch will depart for Kissimmee, Fla., where he'll confer with Toledo General Manager Red Smith on player aid. In the past, Smith has taken his time in passing on men to his double A Atlanta cousins, and Mauch wants to speed up the routine. . . . Southern Association president Charlie Hurth and umpire Andy Mitchell were visitors at Monday's workout. Hurth is on his annual tour of Southern camps, says the rest of the clubs like Atlanta, are waiting for the majors to cut down.

Scout Widmayer has signed seven Miami youths since replacing Joe Pastor on the Cracker staff. They are catcher Jimmy Pope and pitcher Bill Hunt, assigned to Waycross; outfielder Cliff Powell and pitcher Jim Stuart, shipped to Fort Lauderdale; pitcher-first baseman Bob Mosley and infielder Ted DelRio, farmed to Thibodaux; and pitcher Jack Peeples, who'll join Fort Lauderdale in June. The latter is a student at University of Miami. —OUTLAR.

SPORTS IN BRIEF

Veeck Gives Up, Allows TV

Condensed From Wire Reports

Bill Veeck Monday buried the hatchet in at least one of his American League battles when he signed the league's radio and television agreement permitting his St. Louis Browns to be televised on road games.

Mr. Sport Shirt had fought the pact because it allows home clubs to televise games without cutting the visiting club in on a share of the TV receipts. In New York, however, Yankee general manager George Weiss, long a foe of Veeck and his unusual methods, declined to rejoice "until we have the full story from the league office and discover whether or not any strings are attached."

Carl (Bobo) Olson has until Friday to signify his intentions of participating in the American middleweight elimination tournament, Bob Christenberry said. The chairman of the New York Athletic Commission warns that if Olson doesn't come forward with a request to enter the tournament, Christenberry said the winner of the Paddy Young-Ernie Durando fight may be recognized as the American champ. . . . Despite a warning from the chairman of the Illinois State Commission, Jersey Joe Walcott says he is prepared to meet heavyweight champion Rocky Marciano "butt for butt" April 10 in Chicago.

The third big race track fire in New York in less than a year left eight horses dead, one barn leveled and damages estimated at around $110,000 at Jamaica. No big winners were killed, but two, Intent and Count Turf, had close calls. . . . The New York Giants sold first baseman Marvin Blaylock to their Minneapolis farm club in the American Association, and shipped six, pitcher Dick Adair, infielders Foster Castleman, Bob Boring and Bill White and outfielders John Golich and Bob Lennon to their Melbourne minor league training base for further assignment to farm clubs.

Charley Letchas, veteran Southern League infielder, was named manager of the Class B Piedmont League Richmond Colts. Letchas spent 1944 and 1946 with the Philadelphia Phillies and also played with the Washington Senators. Most of his career was spent with the Chattanooga Lookouts, but he also spent one season with Atlanta (1942) and some time with Birmingham.

A women's singles match grabbed the spotlight as play opened in the annual Everglades Tennis Tournament at Palm Beach, Fla. Laura Lou Jahn Kunnen, Clearwater, defeated Tapia GeRoldan, Mexico City, former Mexican woman's champ, 4-6, 6-0, 8-6. . . . Austria's Christian Pravda and Mrs. Andrea Mead Lawrence of Rutland, Vt., captured the 13th annual Harriman Cup Races at Sun Valley, Idaho. . . . Veteran Boston Red Sox outfielder Dom DiMaggio says the eye inflamation which delayed his spring training for several weeks, has virtually cleared and he expects to be ready for the American League opener April 14.

Mike Towell, father and trainer of Vic Towell, ex-world bantamweight champ, declared Monday that his boy would not quit the ring but would continue to fight as a featherweight. Vic was knocked out in the tenth round Saturday night by world champion Jimmy Carruthers of Australia. . . . Rio Grande coach Newt Oliver announced the school was severing all connections with the National Collegiate Athletic Association (NCAA) because of its recent action stripping Rio star Clarence (Bevo) Francis of his phenomenal basketball records.

Smith Upset By Zulueta

BROOKLYN, March 23—(AP)—Cuba's Orlando Zulueta finished strong Monday night to gain a split decision over Wallace (Bud) Smith of Cincinnati in a telecast 10-rounder at Eastern Parkway Arena.

Referee Petie Scalzo (6-4) and Judge Joe Agnello (8-2) voted for Zulueta. Referee Bill Recht scored for Smith 7-2-1. The AP scorecard had Zulueta in front 6-4.

Taft Leads Bohlen Fight, Hits McCarthy's Tactics

Joins Strong GOP Group, Predicts Vote on Wednesday

since last Friday had been seeking to bring McLeod, who remained incommunicado again today, before his Senate permanent investigating subcommittee to testify as to whether he was or was not "overruled" by Dulles.

But when the Senate met at noon, McCarthy announced that the subcommittee had decided that it was up to the foreign relations committee instead to "clear up the confusion" by having what would amount to a Dulles-McLeod confrontation.

He then demanded that the foreign relations committee put Dulles and McLeod under oath and he suggested that Bohlen ought to welcome an experiment with the lie detector.

"I am sure," McCarthy went on, "that Bohlen will agree that if he goes to Moscow he should not go with these questions hanging over his head. Of course, the Truman Democrats must vote for Bohlen; if you love Acheson (Dean Acheson, secretary of state in the Truman administration) then you must love Bohlen.

MANY REPUBLICANS

"And there will be a great number of Republicans holding their noses and voting for Bohlen."

McCarthy said that he understood that in the foreign relations committee hearing on the Bohlen nomination Senator Wiley had mentioned the possibility of using a lie detector but that "the opposition to this was led by Senator Humphrey of Minnesota."

Humphrey was not present. Senator Taft, who himself is a member of the foreign relations committee, already had been irritated and now he was red with anger.

"I want to know," cried Taft, "whether the Senator from Wisconsin is aware that J. Edgar Hoover is absolutely opposed to the lie detector, regards it as of no possible use whatsoever, and that he in fact is "leader of the opposition to its use?"

Rising to answer McCarthy's recommendations for making sworn witnesses of Dulles and McLeod, Taft declared to the Senate:

RIDICULOUS

"In the first place, the suggestion has been made that Dulles be called before the committee on foreign relations and be placed under oath.

"This has hardly been seriously supported. I think it is a ridiculous suggestion. Mr. Dulles' statement not under oath is just as good as Mr. Dulles' statement under oath as far as I am concerned.

"Mr. Dulles did not say that Mr. McLeod had, as alleged, cleared (meaning acted upon) the Bohlen file. He said very clearly that McLeod did not wish to take the responsibility for clearing it. So I think we can dismiss that proposal.

"The second suggestion is that Mr. McLeod be called before the committee on foreign relations. I think it was first suggested that he be called before the committee on government operations (which is headed by Senator McCarthy). It seems to me that that would be a serious infringement upon the jurisdiction of the committee on foreign relations. I think that suggestion has been dropped.

"It has now been suggested that the committee on foreign relations call Mr. McLeod.

"I think that would be a tremendous disservice. It would destroy the FBI. It might suggest a question, at least, as to the character of men in this country that would be wholly unjustified and it would publish allegations made by persona' enemies."

Negro Asks Writ To Get Ballot Spot

filing a damage suit against the executive committee on the grounds that its decision not to call an election, made after he announced his candidacy for a place on the committee, resulted in "personal embarrassment as well as expenses incurred in preparation for the race."

Meanwhile, the 35 candidates paid $18,600 as entrance fees for 24 of the 27 posts to be filled in the May 13 primary.

Shortly after Chambers opened the office at 9 a. m. in committee room No. 3 on the second floor of the City Hall, A. T. Walden, Negro attorney; Miles G. Amos, Negro druggist, and Harris, a Negro, attempted to qualify for committee posts from the Third Ward. Chambers refused their applications along with W. W. Adams, white, who said he wished to run for the committee position from the Sixth Ward.

BROWN DUE TODAY

Hopefuls entered all but three of the 27 contests for which the committee is accepting qualifications. No candidate has yet qualified for mayor, but former Fulton Commission Chairman Charlie Brown said he plans to do so Tuesday morning. Mayor Hartsfield says he will run, but has not announced his plans.

No candidate has entered for the second bracket aldermanic post from the Third Ward or for the Board of Education from the Second Ward, a post now held by Board President Charles C. Rife.

10 NEWCOMERS

Of the aspirants qualified, only 10 are not now in the government, the remaining 25 now holding office.

Entry lists will be open for new qualifications until noon Saturday, and Chambers announced office hours will be from 9 a. m. until 5 p. m. through Friday with the short day set for Saturday, the closing day.

Although Chambers said the first day's collections were larger than for any previous single day, he said the amount collected is only slightly more than one-half the $31,000 estimated cost of the original primary and the runover.

VICE-MAYOR ENTRY

First Ward, No. 1—James E. Jackson and Joe Salem, who ran for mayor four years ago; No. 2—L. O. Moseley and Robert S. Dennis.

Second Ward, No. 1—Ed A. Gilliam; No. 2—R. E. Lee Field.

Sixth Ward, No. 1—Raleigh Drennon; No. 2—Ralph A. Huie.

Two women will battle it out for the Board of Education post from the Eighth Ward in the only board race thus far assured.

Mrs. Cliff Ragsdale, daughter-in-law of the late Mayor Ragsdale, and Mrs. Lyman (Monk) Johnson, prominent in parent-teacher circles, entered that contest.

D. F. McClatchey entered for the post as president of the board.

Other first day entries for the board were:

First Ward, Ed S. Cook; Third Ward, J. H. Landers; Fourth Ward, Franklin C. Rodgers; Fifth Ward, A. C. (Pete) Latimer; Sixth Ward, J. Austin Dilbeck, and Seventh Ward, P. L. Bardin.

Doctors Get Popcorn From Susan's Lung

The 2-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Claude L. Pickett, 685 Lexington Ave., S. W., had developed the wheeze after going to the grocery store with her mother last week. An examination revealed the popcorn.

Vaclav David, Czech foreign minister. Among other matters, David attributed the recent firing and downing of U. S. aircraft to alleged violations by U. S. forces of the Czech border in defiance of many warnings.

The harshest exchange of words, however, came in the afternoon. Andrei A. Gromyko, Soviet delegate, in support of the Czech charges, reeled off a long list of statements by members of Congress and other prominent Americans. These statements, he said, prove that mutual security funds are paying for a conspiratorial plot by Washington to overthrow the "peaceful democracies" of Eastern Europe.

Among those mentioned by Gromyko were Secretary of State Dulles, Governor Dewey, MSA Chief Harold Stassen, Senator Taft and Representative Kersten (Rep., Wisc.).

Kersten is the author of the amendment to the Mutual Security Act of 1951, which has been the target of Soviet block attack. It authorizes expenditure of $100,000,000 for the aid of "selected persons who are residing in or escaping from" the Soviet bloc states. This money may be spent "either to form such persons into elements of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization or for other purposes" to be determined by the President of the United States.

Gromyko charged the alleged mass use by the United States of spies and terrorists was a technique copied from Hitler. The American authors of mutual security legislation, he added, "have gone far beyond their Hitlerite predecessors and now pretend as a cover-up, to be acting in defense of freedom and democracy."

The famous Statute of Liberty, he charged, should be changed to carry a slogan at its base from Dante's Inferno: "Abandon hope, all ye who enter here."

The United States is motivated, Gromyko said, by worry over the successes attained under the Communist form of government. Its leaders do not dare, he charged, to enter into "peaceful competition" with the Soviet Union because the United States economy is based on "rotten foundations."

Lodge replied that Gromyko's supporting statements from prominent Americans added up to "a case built on sand" since some were not in public office, others spoke as private citizens and not one of them could maintain he was "speaking for the United States Government."

"Since the end of the war," Lodge declared, "the Soviet government has persistently followed a policy of aggressive intervention in the domestic affairs of other nations and peoples."

the widow Needed Money

Her husband had left her with a farm and a large herd of cattle—but very little money in the bank. So, the Trust Department of the Citizens & Southern Bank—Executor of her husband's estate, had the cattle appraised to determine their worth. A local buyer offered to purchase for approximate appraisal value. The widow wanted to accept. One of the members of the Trust Investment Committee . . . an experienced cattleman, felt the market value was more, and was sure that a buyer could be found who would pay a higher price.

The bank then asked its twenty-one offices and its more than 250 correspondent banks in Georgia to help locate a buyer. Soon, a bank three-hundred-fifty miles away located a cattleman who would pay substantially more for the herd.

The widow realized a sizable profit because of the specialized business experience and wide banking connections of the Citizens & Southern Bank.

Health Unit Eyes Plans For Savings

State Department of Public Health officials are studying plans to streamline its administration in keeping with Governor Talmadge's recent order for economy in government.

Dr. T. F. Sellers, director of the department, said no definite plans have been decided upon, but said that "we are studying to see in what way we can carry out the several aspects of the governor's directive."

The State Department of Education is conducting similar studies and the State Merit System personnel has been cut in half as a result of the governor's order.

Last year the health department was reorganized and 23 divisions reduced to seven. Each division head now has been asked to submit a list of employees and job ratings in the current economy study.

Dr. Sellers said the current study is a review of the department's program with a view toward eliminating any unessential services.

Mrs. Holm Must Defend Tax Lien Suit

U. S. District Judge Boyd Sloan has overruled a motion which would have removed Mrs. Virginia Bowen Holm and trustees of a trust fund established for Mrs. Holm from the list of defendants in the federal government's suit to enforce a $466,233.59 income tax lien against John Horace Bowen.

Judge Sloan held that there are issues as to the date and validity of the trust agreements that should be decided by a jury.

Henry Bowden, attorney for Mrs. Holmes and Trustees T. Grady Head, Marvin Russell and H. A. Price, filed a motion for summary judgment in favor of his clients, contending that the trust was valid and was not established in order to defraud the government.

Court officials said the tax suit probably would be set for trial at an early date. It was removed from the calendar until action should be taken on Bowden's motion.

Fine Is $185 After Car Hits Woman Here

Charles Effy, 27, of 447½ Capitol Ave., S. E., was bound over to Fulton Grand Jury Monday on a drunk driving charge and fined $185 on five other charges growing out of a hit-and-run incident at Forsyth St. crosswalk near Union Station Saturday.

Effy was accused of driving a truck which struck Mrs. Bertha Bassett, 36, of 5896 Bonner Lane, Doraville, knocking her 75 feet. Special Officer Joe Moore said Eff's truck almost ran down Mrs. Bassett's husband and two-year-old son.

Associate Traffic Judge Wilson Brooks set Effy's bond at $2,500 and assessed 15 days in city stockade plus the $185 fine. Effy's driver's license was suspended.

Plane With 'Copter Takeoff Declared Nearing Reality

Francis Shackelford, Atlanta attorney and former assistant secretary of the Army, Monday night revealed that industry is making progress toward perfection of an airplane that "can take off like a helicopter."

Addressing the Atlanta Lawyers Club, Shackelford pointed out that with the increasing emphasis on aerial warfare and utilization of airborne troops, perfection of such a plane is a "great goal."

The plane, Shackelford explained, would have the characteristics of a helicopter "when it takes off," and the characteristics of a conventional plane once in flight.

Shackelford urged that any door to peace that may have been opened by the recent Communist attitude "be kept open." But he cautioned that "while keeping the door open, we must continue to strengthen our armed forces."

The Army today is faced with a "gigantic problem of management," Shackelford said, and two of the leading factors are 24-month tours of duty and the rotation plan.

He pointed out that the majority of specialists in the Army, who are on two-year tours of duty, have only four or five months' service remaining after going through processing, indoctrination, basic training, and specialized training.

Refugees Crash Berlin Gates With Ax, Truck

BERLIN, March 23—(AP)—A desperate East German father and his son hacked down a frontier fence with axes and raced their truck into West Berlin tonight during a brief period when the crossing was not policed.

It was the second spectacular escape of the day from East Berlin, and the third time in a week that trucks have crashed through the frontier, defying possible death from Communist police armed with machine pistols.

The father and son crashed through at the Lichterfelde crossing, the same crossing that was used by Communists as an exit for the kidnapping of Dr. Walter Linse, anti-Communist member of the Free Jurists League, from West Berlin last July. Since then the gate had been replaced by a stout fence.

Earlier today an East Zone truck crashed through a border fence on the Sandkrug Road into the French sector and became stuck against a lamppost with only the cab across the line.

A squad of 25 Communist police rushed up and leveled their carbines, and almost as quickly about the same number of West Berlin border patrolmen trained rifles on the Reds.

The two sides thus faced each other while a West Berlin fire truck hitched onto the truck and finally pulled it into the Western sector. In the cab was Rudolf Schulz, 36, East Zone businessman, who said he had determined to seek refuge in the West when his father was arrested on a charge of "economic sabotage." The driver's wife and two children previously had escaped by a different route.

Lack of Soviet Aid Hinted Cause of China Cutbacks

By FRED HAMPSON

HONG KONG, Tuesday, March 24—(AP)—There are mounting indications that Communist China is not getting all she wants from Russia for Mao Tse-tung's ambitious five-year plan of industrialization and has been forced to cut back the program by 30 per cent.

Almost hidden in the ocean of Peiping news of Joseph Stalin's death and the new Soviet government was an announcement that a committee on financial and economic affairs had called a conference in Peiping.

TO DISCUSS CUTBACK

The conference was to "discuss the curtailment of this year's building and construction plans."

A few days later this was amplified by the official Communist New China news agency.

Vice Chairman Chia Tuo-fu told the financial and economic committee that China lacked the material and trained working force to carry out the building plans drafted by the various ministries.

The cut would be about 30 per cent, Chia said.

TWO REASONS

After the lavish propaganda for the five-year plan, launched Jan. 1, only two reasons occur for this abrupt change:

1. The Chinese Communist planners realized that they had overplanned and lacked the wherewithall to carry out the program.

2. They were counting on capital goods and other help from Russia which were turned down.

This would explain in part Mao's recent reminder to Prime Minister Georgi Malenkov that Stalin had once said: "Do not forget the East."

STILL THERE

Also it would explain why Premier and Foreign Minister Chou En-lai and an 18-member delegation of economic, military and diplomatic figures from Peiping were sent to Moscow for Stalin's funeral and are still there.

The makeup of the delegation suggested the party had gone more to talk business than to mourn.

CIO Is Given Power To Try Red Suspects

By ALAN ADAMS

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., March 23—(AP)—Walter P. Reuther today opened a drive to crack down on Communists in his CIO United Auto Workers Union by giving the parent union power to try suspected Communists acquitted by their local unions.

Reuther forces made public a proposed change in UAW constitution that would give the international union this new authority to check Communist activity among the UAW's 1,350,000 members.

Delegates to the 14th UAW convention will be asked to approve the change. But before it reaches a vote the issue is expected to cause an eruption in convention hall where the conference is now in its second day.

Reuther, president of the CIO as well as the UAW, sought constitutional change to give the international union "a tighter grip" on Communists. It was directed mainly against local 600, whose leaders have supplied sharp opposition to Reuther leadership.

The 60-000-member local representing Ford workers in Detroit is the largest in the auto union.

Witnesses Charge 'Lies' In Claims of Tax Fixes

By CHARLES F. BARRETT

WASHINGTON, March 23—(AP)—Three witnesses today accused Garry D. Iozia of "fantastic" lying in testifying they took cash from him on claims they could fix his tax evasion cash through high-level political connections.

Iozia had testified that the three men separately claimed connections with such figures as President Truman's brother, Vivian Truman, former Assistant Atty. Gen. T. Lamar Caudle, and Meyer Rothwacks, now head of the Justice Department's criminal tax division.

TWO-YEAR TERM

Iozia, an East Paterson, N. J., textile dyer, told a House investigating subcommittee that he paid a total of $115,000 to various lawyers and alleged "fixers" but to no avail. He faces a two-year jail term after pleading guilty to a tax fraud charge.

In an all-day hearing, these witnesses went before the subcommittee, headed by Rep. Kean (R-NJ), to deny Iozia's story over and over again:

1. Meyer Meth, a cousin of Rothwacks, said he "absolutely . . . never" took $8,500 from Iozia or promised that for $100,000 he could fix the case through Rothwacks.

2. Robert Ables, a friend of Meth, conceded he was the intermediary who first brought Iozia and Meth together. But he accused Iozia, Iozia's wife and son-in-law all of premeditated "lying" when they testified Iozia paid Ables and Meth $8,500 in cash.

3. Joseph Sherman, a former Washington newspaperman and part-time Democratic National Committee worker, denied he got a $1,500 expense account from Iozia on representations he was going to Kansas City to see President Truman's brother about the case.

Ike Shuffles His Advisers On Security

New York Times News Service
Special to The Atlanta Constitution

WASHINGTON, March 23—President Eisenhower today reorganized the staff and procedures of the National Security Council with the aim of strengthening it for the mission of advising him on vital security issues during the world crisis.

The changes he made were:

1. Robert Cutler, former Boston lawyer and banker, and an administrative assistant to the President, was designated special assistant to the President for national security affairs, as principal executive officer of the NSC, and as chairman of its planning board.

2. The former senior staff of the NSC was renamed the planning board and it will meet three times weekly, instead of twice weekly.

3. The director of defense mobilization, when he is appointed, will attend all meetings of the council.

4. The Secretary of the Treasury also will attend the once-weekly meetings of the council.

The attendance of George M. Humphrey, Secretary of the Treasury, is not an innovation, however. Former President Truman had his Secretary of the Treasury, John W. Snyder, attend the meetings, too.

Granger also was named by former President Truman to the five-man committee which blueprinted changes in the armed force's racial policies to fully integrate Negroes and other minorities.

$28,802 Stolen From EAL Safes

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., March 23—(UP)—Yeggmen bored through a restroom wall into the Eastern Air Lines ticket office here today and cracked $28,802 out of two safes.

One safe yielded $28,581. The safecrackers overlooked $1,129 and collected only $221 from the other safe by failing to drill into all the small safe deposit drawers the safe contained.

Most of the loot comprised the week-end receipts for the big air line ticket office.

Bandit Killed In Back-Yard Gun Battle

KANSAS CITY, March 23 (AP)—A wild, running gun battle through back yards hung with Monday's washing ended today in the death of a gunman, the capture of his red-haired bride of three weeks and the wounding of a rookie policeman.

It took place in a thickly populated residential section, not far from where the gunman had held up a drugstore a short time before.

Bullets whistled through the area. Housewives peered cautiously from windows as they followed the shifting battle scene. One house was struck by three bullets.

Money the bandit had taken from the drug store, he got about $1,000 in bills, was strewn in his zigzag path as he ran from the fire of pursuing police.

The gunman was identified by his bride as Paul W. Stanton, 36. The woman, Mrs. Anna L. Stanton, 42, a cocktail lounge waitress, was caught by Police Chief Bernard C. Brannon as he was speeding to the scene.

Wounded twice in the exchange of shots was Patrolman James F. Kinstler, 22, who joined the police department 23 days ago.

Served 5 Years on Girl's Fake Charge; Freed at 65

KANSAS CITY, March 23—(U.P.)—A 65-year-old Kansas City Negro was freed from the Missouri State Penitentiary at Jefferson City today after a 16-year-old girl admitted she lied in identifying him as the man who raped her.

Edward Oscar had served five years in the state prison before the girl told Judge Ben Terte in circuit court here that she had lied at the original trial when Oscar received a sentence of 99 years on the charge of rape.

Judge Terte had reduced the sentence to 20 years.

He said today he was "not mad at anyone." He told Judge Terte tonight "I just trusted in the Lord. I feel fine. I did my work every day and just trusted in the Lord. I knew it would all work out."

The girl, then 11 years old, had testified Oscar was her attacker. But she told Judge Terte she had lied, and that she had been induced to identify Oscar by her twin brother who had a "grudge" against him.

The teenager told Judge Terte she had come forth at this time because she had "got religion" and that she wanted to right the wrong.

She said she had decided she would "burn in hell" if she didn't tell the truth, and told her Catholic sister what she had done.

The two Presidents Roosevelt of the United States were fifth cousins and Franklin D. Roosevelt's mother was a third cousin of President Grant.

VD Study Award for Ad Harris

An Atlanta venereal disease scientist Wednesday will be awarded the first Kimble Methodology Research Award for developing three standard tests for diagnosing syphillis.

Ad Harris

Harris was also one of the scientists who developed penicillin rapid-treatment for syphillis.

Widespread use of penicillin and other antibiotics has contributed to the steady decline in venereal disease cases in the nation and in Georgia, Harris said.

A rigorous effort to locate cases of venereal disease by both federal and state governments and industry has also reduced the number of cases, Harris said. He especially cited premarital blood tests as a good method for locating disease.

Harris will receive a plaque and a $500 award at a dinner in his honor Wednesday night at the Biltmore Hotel. The dinner will be sponsored by the Conference of State and Provincial Public Health Laboratory Directors.

Speakers will include Dr. Albert V. Hardy, Jacksonville, Fla.; Dr. R. A. Vonderlehr, regional medical director of the Public Health Service, Atlanta, and Dr. Sidney Olansky, director of the laboratory at Chamblee.

Harris said he would share the award with four technicians who helped him in his research work. They are E. P. DelVecchio, Mrs. Virginia Harding Falcone, Miss Margaret Reidel and A. A. Rosenberg.

Harris is a member of the World Health Organization's expert panel on venereal diseases and trepanematoses, the American Public Health Association's subcommittee on reference standard methods, the Georgia Public Health Association and the Scientific Research Society of America.

Highway Group Names Aldredge

Chairman James H. Aldredge of the Fulton County Commission has been named president of the U. S. 78 Highway Improvement Association, it was announced Monday.

The association is seeking construction of truck traffic lanes on Highway 78 at two steep hills near the Chattahoochee River and at Nickajack Hill to eliminate congestion.

Talmadge Ready To Abolish Schools If Segregation Ends

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., March 23—(AP)—Georgia's Governor Talmadge told a Jacksonville television audience tonight he would take steps to abolish the present public schools of Georgia if the U. S. Supreme Court fails to uphold segregation in the nation's public schools.

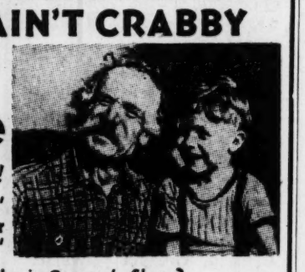

The Georgia chief executive said he would call an extraordinary session of the Legislature and recommend such action.

He said, however, he would not attempt to force the issue in areas under jurisdiction of the Federal Government because "the Federal Government has more troops than the state of Georgia."

Talmadge outlined his position on the issue on a Junior Chamber of Commerce forum.

DeKalb GOP Club Elects Ray Spitler

Ray A. Spitler, comptroller of the Piedmont Hotel, was elected as first president of the Republican Club of DeKalb County Monday night.

Membership applications from 71 persons were received at the club's initial meeting. Spitler said the club was the seventh organized in Georgia since the election.

Other officers elected were Richard S. Carney, first vice-president; Mrs. Thomas Waldrop, second vice-president; Mrs. P. J. McGovern, secretary; Mrs. E. L. Brockett, assistant secretary, and Theodore Stivers, treasurer.

The group adopted a constitution and bylaws. Purposes of the club outlined were to provide "political expression and recognition" for individuals wishing to join the Republican Party; to train voters as effective political workers in campaigning for Republican Party nominees; to sponsor activities and ideals of the Republican Party, and to collect and discuss information concerning local and national political activities.

Charles A. Moye Jr., unsuccessful Republican candidate for the Georgia Legislature in the November election in DeKalb, said he saw the purpose of the club as to stimulate continuity of Republican activities between political campaigns. The club will leave all political policy matters up to the Repubican Executive Committee, he said.

The new club adopted a resolution urging State Republican Chairman Elbert Tuttle to promote the establishment of a federation of Republican clubs in the state. The group also decided it would promote Republican activities in Rockdale County.

Army Drivers Face Penalties

The Third Army Monday announced a crackdown on drivers of military vehicles involved in accidents or serious traffic violations.

Lt. Gen. A. R. Bolling of Ft. McPherson, Third Army commanding general, requested law enforcement officers in the seven-state Southeastern area to furnish headquarters with copies of accident reports and arrest tickets.

These reports will be forwarded to installation commanders, General Bolling said.

In case of serious traffic violations or accidents in which injuries occur, the Army has prescribed a 10-hour driving course for the driver at fault.

Bolling said in the event of a serious injury or death resulting from negligent or unlawful operation of a vehicle the Army driver's permit will be revoked for one year.

Driving permits may be revoked permanently under Army regulations if the driver is convicted of drunk driving, he added.

Ask Needs, School Men Are Told

A group of Fifth District school officials and board of education members Monday night were told that they should be bold in declaring what it is going to cost to have an adeuqate school program and they should take steps to secure these funds.

Jim Cherry, DeKalb County school superintendent, in a welcoming address, told a district meeting of the Georgia School Boards' Association in Avondale Estates that Georgia is "economizing to the point of diminishing returns."

He said that Georgia spent only 85 cents per child per day last year as compared with the national average of $1.40.

WANT PROGRAM

"Georgia people can do something about it and no one will sell the people short, for the parents want an adequate program for their children," the school official declared.

The meeting, first of a statewide series of 19, was set up to discuss the common problems of school boards.

A panel of educators and board members explained the duties and responsibilities of school boards. In a summary of the discussion, Dr. Joe Williams, University of Georgia, said that it is the duty of the boards to (1) adopt policies of the school systems; (2) provide means whereby the policies can be put into operation—that is to secure money and personnel for operation, and (3) see that the policies are executed through the school superintendent and his personnel.

J. H. Woodall, Woodland, president of the state organization, said that "we should tell folks it is going to cost money and plenty of it." He cited the great need for vocational training in the state in comparing the industries here with "those in the East."

Claude Purcell, chief school administrator for the State Department of Education, said that a reverse in the present procedure in setting up budgets should be used. "Today we set up the budget and try to stretch it as far as it will go and we should set up the program before determining how much money we will spend," he stated.

A report on the progress of the association, organized in September, 1951, revealed 98 systems in the state with 650 members. All systems in the Fifth District, consisting of Fulton, DeKalb, Rockdale, Gwinnett, Clayton, Henry, Butts, Newton, Buford, Decatur and Atlanta, are members with only one exception.

C. L. Davidson, chairman of the DeKalb County Board of Education, presided at the meeting.

Third Army GIs In A-Bomb Test Slated for Today

Nearly 600 Third Army soldiers will participate in the second atomic bomb test at Yucca Flat, Nev., reportedly scheduled for Tuesday.

They are from Forts Benning, Bragg, Jackson and McClellan, and Camps Gordon, Rucker and Stewart. They have been formed into three composite units—infantry, artillery and armored.

Heading the group are three Third Army headquarters observers from Atlanta, Lt.-Col. H. V. Douglas, Maj. Donald O'Rourke and Maj. Reginald M. Hodgson Jr.

Stone Mountain Park Must Wait Teachers' Raise

The state will not buy Stone Mountain for use as a state park until mone, is available to give school teachers a pay increase, Governor Talmadge said Monday.

The governor's statement came as a Georgia sculptor proposed a new plan for creating a Confederate memorial on the side of the mountain.

The sculptor, Steffan Thomas, recommended in a letter to the governor that gigantic granite statues of Confederate leaders be carved separately on the ground and hoisted on huge cranes to a shelf dug out of solid rock on the mountain's face.

Peace Officers Board To Study Columbus Case

The Georgia Peace Officers Annuity and Benefit Fund Commission will meet Tuesday to determine what course of action to take in a reported refusal of Columbus municipal courts to make payments to the fund.

A law creating the commission and authorizing establishment of the fund requires courts to access an additional $2 on every fine of more than $5 imposed on a convicted lawbreaker. This $2 goes into the fund.

The Columbus city commission reportedly has directed municipal courts there to discontinue such payments into the fund.

MARY HAWORTH

Attention to Others Suggested Shyness Cure

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: I have no self-confidence at all. If I meet people on the street whom I know, or if they come to the house, I am so shy that it is uncomfortable for them to be around me.

It has dawned on me lately that shyness is simply a by-product of underestimating oneself, as compared to others. From this I conclude that if one thinks of others, one cannot possibly be concerned about oneself.

My problem is how to overcome this handicap. I am a married woman of 40. How can I dissolve the tensions that disturb others?—L.S.

DEAR L.S.: Shyness has to do with involuntary ingrained anxiety when one is under scrutiny. Also it stems from persistent lack of experience in dealing comfortably with people—a lack that is linked to the "guilty" assumption that one isn't worthwhile or lovable. Shyness is a product of negative human conditioning.

The feeling of being really known to and accepted by another person whose personality and judgment one admires, is also a help to the shy individual. Presumably you enjoy this status in relation to your husband. But in the event he is a self-enclosed man whose aloofness shrivels your timorous spirit, my advice is to seek diligently until you find the professional counsellor who can be, sincerely, a friend to your spirit.—M.H.

MRS. CLYDE HOLCOMB

Mrs. Holcomb is the former Geneva Duncan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Duncan of Hapeville, her marriage to Staff Sergeant Holcomb, son of Mrs. Eva Holcomb of Marble Hill, having taken place at the home of her brother and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Edwards of Hapeville.

Children Need a Place Of Their Own

By MARCIA WINN

A small child can have the most wonderful playroom in the world, but if it is upstairs or in the basement and his mother is in the kitchen, where she has to be a good part of the day, modern conveniences or not, he isn't going to spend much time in it.

He doesn't want attention He simply wants the presence. He apparently finds it comforting.

On the other hand, the mother finds it comforting to be able to keep an eye on her small child without running her legs off.

The truly modern house of today would have either a playroom adjacent to the kitchen, separated only by a low wall, or a few kitchen drawers and bins designed for children's storage alone.

Into these can go all the material for their quiet activities—pencils, paper, crayons, cards, puzzles.

Whether your kitchen is old or new, you can make the days pleasanter for every one if, while your child is small, you dedicate a drawer, the larger the better, for him.

Later you will remember it as the greatest nervous frenzy saver of that era.

If cleaning must be done, make that his chore.

His Resistance Is Lowered

Small, dark-eyed Ann Davis, wife of Prof. Reid Davis of Alabama Polytechnic Institute, is one hat-loving woman who has beat the masculine gagsters to the draw when it comes to poking fun at feminine head-gear.

You may cringe when the man in your life says unkind things about the new hat in your life but Mrs. Davis has made a full-scale comedy act out of men and hats. I think it behooves us women to give her some kind of award for softening up male resistance to new bonnets. After a man has seen Ann Davis' collection of hats and been forced to model them, he'll never again criticize the more restrained geegaws which his womenfolks put on their heads.

I saw Mrs. Davis and her hats in action down at the West Point Lions Club ladies night celebration last week and I never laughed so much in my life.

The first thing Mrs. Davis does with the help of her good-natured husband is to haul out a suitcase, a shopping bag and assorted hat boxes, all jammed to the gunwales with weird and wonderful headpieces. She promptly enlists the help of another man. (At West Point it was one of the town's leading physicians whom she dubbed "Spendthrift" Morgan and assigned to hold a mirror for her.)

She introduces the hats, one at a time, with a running commentary on their advantages. For instance her hunting cap was designed for bargain basement sales and was equipped with earmuffs to drown out the cries of other shoppers being trampled to death. Her Easter hat includes a nest of yellow cotton baby chickens and two charming plastic eggs on elastic bands. Sentimentally, she fixed up a hearts and flowers hat to wear on Valentine Day and wedding anniversaries. She has reversible hats and convertible hats and one magnificent job which doubles as a lampshade when her mother-in-law comes to visit.

After she has displayed her bonnets herself and explained their purposes, Mrs. Davis calls gentlemen from the audience to help her model them. That was enough to break the spirit of the most anti-new-hat husband present at the Lions Club.

Robert Rearden, superintendent of one of the West Point mills, sheepishly went forth in a pink and blue confection tied under his chin. Lean, balding Roy McLendon was chosen to wear the pink elastic bandeau designed to keep curlers in place at night. (The only thing was that Mr. McLendon had no place to attach the curlers and Mrs. Davis insisted that he wear a long outing flannel nightgown with the headpiece.)

J. N. Landers of the West Point Utilization Co. paraded in a bright red hat which incorporated an ice bag for hangover sufferers . . . Candler Harwell wore the wondrous hunting cap. . . . Paul Fiquette Sr., white organdy sometimes lampshade . . . Cooper Kirby the Easter bonnet . . . Lee Johnson, a former Auburn football star, sallied forth in a little number designed for sports events. . . . Willis Jones wore a feather confection. . . . B. B. McGinty a towelling turban designed for bathroom wear and ornamented with pieces of plumbing . . . and the Rev. John C. Busby of the First Baptist Church modeled a sinful looking flower number.

Mrs. Davis does her hat act for fun but she is rapidly becoming famous and is greatly in demand as a banquet and luncheon performer. Sheafer Heard, chairman for the ladies night celebration, saw her perform somewhere else and recruited her for his program. He merely expected her to be entertaining but I think she is better than that. I think she has probably paved the way for every woman in West Point and environs to buy a new hat this week.

Tender Asparagus Spears Offer Variety in Breads

By JEANNE HIGGINS

Spring is known for bringing on new ideas in everything from food to romance. This thought, however, is about the garden-fresh tender spears of asparagus now appearing on the market as one of the "early season" vegetables.

These fresh green asparagus spears rolled in ham slices are topped with a creamy, tangy mustard sauce and are served on Sun-Tan Biscuit Squares.

FUN WITH FOODS

Make the biscuits from enriched flour to guarantee extra amounts of B-vitamins, proteins and food iron.

ASPARAGUS ROLLS ON SUN-TAN BISCUIT SQUARES

2 cups sifted enriched flour
3 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
¼ cup shortening
2/3 to ¾ cup milk
Asparagus Rolls
Mustard Sauce

1—Sift together flour, baking powder and salt. 2—Cut or rub in shortening until mixture is crumbly. 3—Add milk to make a soft dough. Turn out on lightly floured board or pastry cloth and knead lightly 30 seconds. Roll out to 8-inch square. 4—Cut into 4 smaller squares or diamonds. Bake on ungreased baking sheet in hot oven (450 deg. F.) 10 to 12 minutes. While biscuit squares are baking make asparagus rolls. Place two asparagus rolls on each biscuit square. Pour hot Mustard Sauce over each serving.

ASPARAGUS ROLLS

16 cooked asparagus spears (about 1 pound)
8 thin slices luncheon meat

1—Roll 2 asparagus spears in each of the meat slices. 2—While biscuit squares are baking, heat asparagus rolls by placing under broiler or in skillet until meat is lightly browned.

MUSTARD SAUCE

3 tablespoons butter or margarine
3 tablespoons enriched flour
¾ teaspoon salt
Dash pepper
1½ cups milk
2 tablespoons prepared mustard
½ teaspoon brown sugar

1—Melt butter or margarine in saucepan. 2—Stir in flour, salt and pepper. 3—Add milk and cook until thickened, stirring constantly. 4—Add mustard and brown sugar and mix well. 5—Serve hot over asparagus rolls. Serves four.

Beaux Arts Ball To Use Dyed Tobacco Cloth Decor

By DOTTY LUNDY

High Museum has taken in washing! Gauzy lengths of tobacco cloth dipped in dye have been fluttering in the Art Institute's backyard for several days. Have the painters tossed away their brushes for the washboard?

Nope! The spooky blue sheeting is merely a part of the least fantastic trappings for the "Blue Fantasia" decorations designed for the Atlanta Art Institute's seventh annual Beaux Arts Ball.

Student activities officers explained the theme. Jewelle De Laughter, chairman, pointed out the huge stabiles fashioned of string and cardboard that will glitter at the ball.

Surrealistic murals on cardboard will be fastened to the walls, explained Mary Tante, treasurer of student activities. The murals, designed by third-year students, resemble the style of the Mexican surrealist, Diego Riviera.

John Kershner, cochairman, and James Alford, self-styled "flunky," reported that they had spent more time lately with glue and dye than with canvas and oils.

Costumes for the students will follow the same color scheme as decorations, though the public will be admitted in formal dress. Attire ranges from one student's long woolies with the circulatory system outlined in blue to a "Blue Bird of Happiness" clad in blued feathers.

Dorothy Alexander's ballet pupils will dance at the ball, which will be held at the Dinkler Room of the Ansley Hotel Friday, March 23, from 9 to 1.

Purpose of the ball is to augment the scholarship fund of the Art Institute. Table reservations must be made before Friday at the Atlanta Art Institute.

Dr. Stephens Will Honor Club Group

The nine members of the Mother Goose Club, a group of matrons banded together to sponsor the social activities at Henry Grady High School, will be honor guests Tuesday when Dr. Rual Stephens entertains at luncheon in the Mural Room of the school.

During luncheon Mrs. Norman W. Gibson will present to the school a handsome silver tray given to her in 1948 at the close of her very successful term as president of the PTA. Mrs. Robert Eskew, head of the home economics department, will accept it for the school.

After luncheon there will be an inspection of the new activities room which has been furnished by interested parents and friends of the school.

Industrial Survey Shows Strides Made by South

Chemical, Electronic Plants Listed in Annual Directory

By ALEX JOINER

The Southern Association of Science and Industry here Monday announced completion of what is probably the most comprehensive survey yet made of Dixie's mushrooming industries.

It's the second annual edition of the Southern Industrial Directory which is coming off the presses in a few days.

The first SASI survey, issued last year, showed that the South (14 states from Maryland through Texas) was adding an average of one new multi-million dollar manufacturing plant per day. The new index indicates this rate of progress is continuing and, moreover, that the variety of manufacturing in the region is increasing proportionately.

The new directory lists more than 12,500 Southern manufacturing plants employing 50 or more workers.

CLASSIFIED INDEX

The firms are listed in a classified index of several hundred major headings. For example, there are 1,001 textile mills, 662 apparel plants, 620 food-canning and preserving plants, 617 lumber and woodworking plants, 377 hosiery mills, 301 wood furniture plants, 231 dairy product plants, 299 bakeries, 191 printing and publishing plants, 161 meat packing plants, and 149 steel fabricators.

The regional index graphically points up Dixie's rapid growth in such highly complex industries as chemicals, machinery and electronics. For example, there are 18 ammonia plants, 22 caustic soda plants, 133 manufacturers of industrial chemicals, 23 chlorine plants, 20 producers of sulphur and 17 producers of salt and brine.

RICH SOUTHERN MARKET

Commenting on the new publication, SASI Pres. James F. Crist stated that the South has become a rich market for many industrial and commercial products and supplies.

"During the next few years," he said, "the South will buy billions of dollars worth of goods, a large percentage of which can be bought within the region, repaying the purchaser in economy and convenience and contributing materially to the economic growth of the region."

The SASI is a non-profit, nonpolitical organization founded in 1941 to promote the economic and technological progress of the South. A central research office in Atlanta is headed by Director H. McKinley Conway Jr.

Regional officers for 1952-53, in addition to Crist who is president of the Gulf Power Co., are A. P. Black, head of the department of chemistry, University of Florida, vice-president; Frank J. Soday, director of research, The Chemstrand Corp., vice-president; George D. Palmer, University of Alabama, secretary, and Alva G. Maxwell, Citizens & Southern National Bank of Atlanta, treasurer.

$27 BILLION OUTPUT PLANNED

New Plant-Building Boom Will Bolster U.S. Economy

WASHINGTON, March 23—(AP)—U. S. business firms plan to spend more this year than ever before for new plant and equipment, thus keeping a principal economic boom factor working hard, the Department of Commerce reported today.

The department's report was based on plans disclosed to government agencies by businessmen. It said business capital outlays in 1953 are scheduled at a new record rate of 27 billion dollars. That would be 7.5 per cent as much as the 1952 gross national product (the sum of all spending in the country during the year) and 47 percent as much as total private investment during 1952.

Businessmen are of course free to change plans as they think best, but the government report said businessmen have raised their 1953 capital outlay plans since last October.

U. S. business spent 26 billion dollars for new plant and equipment in 1952. This year's plans, if carried out, would therefore represent an increase of about 1.9 per cent above the 1952 record high. The heaviest spending is planned for the first half of the year, with some shrinkage probable after that.

Non-durable goods producers plan to increase their capital outlays from 1952, but durable goods makers expect a decrease of about the same amount.

The report on business expansion was based on data submitted by corporations registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission, plus a sampling by the Commerce Department of non-registered firms.

Southern Bell Plans $30 Million Issue

Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Co. plans to offer $30,000,000 in 24-year debentures for competitive bidding about April 27, Pres. Fred J. Turner announced here Monday after a meeting of the company's board of directors.

It is expected that the debentures will bear a date of May 1, 1953, Turner said. Subject to the effective date of a registration statement to be filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission, the company plans to extend invitations for bids on April 27, and to determine on May 5, 1953, the successful bidder for the issue.

Proceeds from the sale will go to provide capital needed to continue the company's record-breaking construction program in its nine-state service area, Turner pointed out.

Stocks Slip But Volume Is Modest

New York Times News Service Special to The Atlanta Constitution

NEW YORK, March 23—Virtually every major group in the stock market headed for lower ground today but volume failed conspicuously to develop. Depite declines that carried the New York Times combined average of 50 stocks below the midpoint between the 1953 high and low, volume was only 1,750,000 shares, against 1,730,000 on Friday.

The combined average closed at 192.11, off 1.52, about where it was in the break of Feb. 5 and 6. Of the 50 stocks in the average, only eight rose. The 25 industrials made a high of 314.68, a low of 311.08 and a close of 311.61 for a loss of 2.56 points.

TRENDS REVERSE

Recent trends, which have had the most active issues generally higher when the list as a whole declined, were partly reversed. Only four of the 15 leaders in activity were higher but those four were all bunched in the top five. The market was the broadest since Feb. 24, with 1,202 issues traded. Of these, 649 fell, 255 rose and 298 were unchanged.

The day started with large blocks and higher prices for the issues for which mergers have been rumored. Willys-Overland rose ¼ to 14¼ on a block of 8,000 shares. Derby Oil jumped ½ to 24¼ on 2,500 shares and Ashland gained ⅛ to 17⅝ on 3,000.

WILLYS UP

Save for a drop of ½ in Chrysler and a gain by Republic Steel of ⅝, most other changes at the opening were in small fractions. Shering Corporation, traded for the first time, opened at 16⅞.

Willys-Overland, up ½ to 14½ on 36,700 shares, was the leader in volume. Ashland Oil gained ⅛ and placed second on 25,000 shares. Pacific Western Oil rose 1⅞ to 31¼ on 22,100 shares. Oils, motors and rails predominated in the list of the 15 most active issues.

Aircrafts were weak most of the day. Douglas gave up 3⅜ and closed at 68⅛. Boering dropped 2 to 46½. Bendix fell 1¼ to 67. Chemicals, oils, tires, rails and motors were soft and steels somewhat easier.

CHRYSLER SKIDS

Both DuPont and Union Carbide lost 1¼ points. Goodyear dropped 1⅝ to 56¼. Goodrich was minus 1⅞. Nickel Plate and Southern Pacific slipped 1⅛ apiece.

Bethlehem Steel and U. S. Steel gave up grudging eighths but National Steel dropped ⅞ at 48½. Republic, the strong starter, ended the day with a net loss of ⅛.

Chrysler skidded ⅝ to 86 and General Motors ¼ to 67¼.

In the oils, Texas Pacific Land Trust dropped 3½ to 148, and Pan American Petroleum 2⅛ to 43 but Pacific Western rose to 31⅛. Mahoning Coal jumped 10 to 550.

Guard Rights, Independent Bankers Told

Peters, speaking on the second day of a three-day meeting of the organization at the Ansley Hotel, said IBA membership has increased from 2,788 to 4,654 in the past three years but that branch banks are increasing faster.

The branch banks are better organized politically, Peters pointed out, and are "more influential in Washington than the so-called country banks." He urged the IBA members to seek effective legislation for the "protection of the rights and interests of independent bankers of this country."

Some 800 members of the association from throughout the nation are attending the meeting here. Speakers Monday included Governor Talmadge and Mayor Hartsfield. The meeting will close with a banquet at 7 p. m. Tuesday night.

Spot Cotton Demand Poor

NEW YORK, March 23—(AP)—Cotton futures finished 80 cents to $1.80 a bale lower today. Persistent liquidation was attributed to renewed peace talks abroad, poor demand for spot cotton, and high acreage ideas.

Demand for futures came through scale-down mill covering. Sales of cotton goods have been slow for several weeks, while cotton exports are estimated to be more than 2,000,000 bales behind the pace of a year ago. There were predictions in the trade that the nation's cotton carry-over on July 31 will probably be around 5,000,000 bales, or about 2,200,000 bales larger than a year previous.

Rounding out prospects for accumulating stocks was a survey released by a Dallas firm estimating cotton plantings around 27,350,000 acres, or about three per cent above last season. A crop of about 15,600,000 bales was seen possible under average conditions as compared with the 1952 crop of 15,134,000 bales.

Agricultural officials have asked farmers to cut the 1953 crop back to 12,600,000 bales or more to avoid an excessive surplus and the need for reimposition of acreage and marketing controls in 1954. However, the survey said there is little incentive for cotton farmers to plant other crops or curtail because prices of other commodities have been declining and a higher loan is expected on the 1953 cotton crop, basis middling 15/16 inch.

Talk of Peace Hits Grains

CHICAGO, March 23—(AP)—Talk of a renewed Russian "peace offensive," coupled with fairly liberal receipts of cash grain, produced a nervous and lower market in grains on the Board of Trade Monday.

Losses ran to more than 3 cents in soybeans at one time while wheat, corn and oats were off more than a cent. The market failed to show any sustained rallying power.

Brokers thought some selling also may have been based on Agriculture Secretary Benson's remarks, made before the American Dairy Association, emphasizing feeding cows "improved roughage" instead of "costly grains and other supplemental feeds."

Wheat closed 1½-2¼ lower, May $2.28¾-¼, corn 1⅞ to 2 cents lower, May $1.58¾, oats ¾-1¼ lower, May 73½-⅝, rye 2¾-3¾ lower, May $1.75-$1.74¾, soybeans 2 to 3¾ lower, May $2.97¾-½, and lard 20 to 30 cents a hundred pounds lower, March $10.40.

A Rhyme a Day

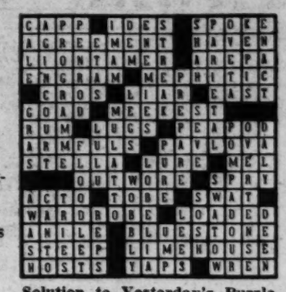

"Contrary to general opinion, alcoholics are not all weaklings. Most are stubborn and determined individuals who can quit drinking once they have made up their minds."—Medical article quote.

A man could drive himself to drink . . . or worse, if all he did was think . . . about the problems on this earth . . . and all the effort isn't worth . . . the energy that it consumes . . . for, always, some new problem looms . . . and when the answer's found for that . . . another pins him to the mat.

Rich people have but one or two . . . "additions," then their work is through . . . while poorer people, as a rule . . . have children in each class at school . . . and some at home too young to get . . . a place in kindergarten yet.

And then there is the middle class . . . which seems to constitute the mass . . . of people; they're the "solid core" . . . who have enough, but little more . . . than what it takes to feed and dress . . . the family (but I digress) . . . I meant to say, when I began . . . the difficulties faced by man . . . entitle him to take a drink . . . but he is better off, I think . . . with something that is soft, instead . . . of something harder than his head.

ED SULLIVAN

Rosalind Russell Rage on Broadway

Each night pedestrian traffic on Seventh Avenue is tied up as hundreds of youngsters and their parents stand outside the stage door of the Winter Garden Theater, waiting to catch a glimpse of Rosalind Russell. As the star of "Wondering Town," hottest hit on Broadway, Roz is enjoying the most tumultuous triumph scored by any Hollywood actress, with possible exception of Judy Garland's sentimental tour at the Palace.

In those days, $50 was a lot of money to the Russell girl.

She'd gone out to Hollywood after playing in stock at Lake Placid, which had led to an engagement in Boston as E. E. Clive's leading lady. This, in turn, had led to a part in the Theater Guild's production of the last "Garrick Gaities." Waterbury, Conn., her home town, and Marymount, her school, predicted great things.

Friends in the theater had advised her to be sure that the make-up man and the hairdresser were on her side, that in Hollywood these two were as important to an actress as the cameraman.

So, on her first day on the old Universal lot, Rosalind sought them out, explained she would be screen-tested on the morrow and gave each of them $25. "It means a great deal to me," the youngster exclaimed.

The morning of the test dawned.

Rosalind went over to the make-up department. The man to whom she'd given the $25 was engrossed in a racing sheet.

Without even looking up from his figures, he said: "Look, I can't take you, kid. The day is all blocked out. Put on your own make-up."

Miss Russell, crushed, went to the hairdresser. This worthy was standing in front of a mirror, carefully frizzing her own hair.

Lacking make-up or hair-do, Rosalind made her way to the set where the screen test had been scheduled.

The director took one look at her.

"Obviously you're not interested in preparing yourself for this test, and I haven't the time to waste on you," he said.

So she never got a screen test. Laemmle's Universal lot brought her out, but there's not a foot of film on her in their files.

Myrna Loy and director Harold Bucquet saved the situation in an unusual double play.

Miss Loy, at that exact moment, started battling for extra salary on the Metro lot. And, to break the Loy sit-down strike, MGM started looking for a girl of comparable dignity to scare Myrna back.

Ben Piazza got on the phone. "No, thank you," said Miss Russell. "This place is full of lunatics and cheats. I'm going back East." Piazza sweet-talked her into coming over to Culver City.

"If you don't like the test we make," suggested Piazza, "you can tear it up." Rosalind's vanity started recovering.

Director Bucquet who'd just completed "On Borrowed Time," made the test. "Let's startle them," he told her. "The guys who'll see your test will sit in a projection room and see perhaps 10 tests at one sitting. To grab their attention, I'm going to fill the screen completely with a close-up of you. But I want to get a particular look in your eyes, so we may have to make it over and over again."

It took almost two hours before he was satisfied, but it was on that one close-up that MGM signed her. Then they put her in 13 B-pictures to give her experience, and when she got the big chance, she was ready and she clicked.

From then on, she believed that Hollywood was a wonderful town. And now she knows.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VanDELLEN

Chlorophyll Stirs Widespread Debate

Since the introduction of chlorophyll, green has become a magic color and the market has been flooded with toiletries, cosmetics, and other products containing this substance. The list includes toothpastes, mouth washes, shampoos, gum, lozenges, dog food, and even especially treated socks and foam rubber insoles.

Chlorophyll was a natural in more ways than one because many manufacturers believe that something new must be added to their wares every few years if they are to remain in business.

Impartial and reliable research is needed on the chlorophyll topic because numerous questions remain unanswered and too much of the "proof" has been subjective rather than objective. The food and drug administration may be influential along this line.

Opinions vary on the benefit of chlorophyll. Some authorities question its value; others assert that the amount used in various preparations is too small to be effective. Still others have infinite faith in the substance.

The scoffers claim that most of the experimental work done on the deodorizing effect has been poorly controlled. Manufacturers of green toothpaste, for example, give all the credit to chlorophyll but say nothing about the fact that brushing removes debris from between the cracks and crevices of the teeth.

Again, studies on body odor have shown that soap and water still are the best deodorizing procedure. Which one deserves the credit, for example, when a person bathes regularly and also takes chlorophyll? Nevertheless, much evidence points to the fact that chlorophyll in proper concentration has some power to eliminate odors.

A physician from The Netherlands found chlorophyll effective in relieving the stench of ozena, a distressing nasal condition. More than a decade ago an article appeared describing the deodorizing function of chlorophyll surgical dressings.

A somewhat similar dressing relieved the itching and odor associated with fungus infection among our soldiers in the South Pacific. There also is considerable variation in opinions of chlorophyll as an antiseptic; some surgeons thought it speeded the healing of wounds, bedsores, and infected burns.

Nature's chlorophyll is a remarkable process but chlorophyll products are surrounded with too much mystery and commercialism to be of interest to the average physician. The commercial variety is a derivative of this substance and, in addition, many manufacturers are secretive about the exact chemical formula in their products.

This is one of the stumbling blocks in doing impartial research. In concentrated form the substance may be useful but just because cosmetics contain this material or are green in color this does not mean that they will do all that the manufacturers claim. Time usually solves such problems because good products last and those that are overexaggerated fall by the wayside.

MIRROR OF YOUR MIND

BY JOSEPH WHITNEY Consultant

Will a self-sustained man make a good husband?

Answer: No. To be self-satisfied means that he is living in a world of fantasy in which he has built himself up as a superman. No person who sees himself as he really is can be self-satisfied. Theodore Reik, German psychoanalyst, states that the completely self-satisfied person can never love another person. Bear in mind that there is a vast difference between self-satisfaction and self-respect. The latter develops in an atmosphere of security and is based on a realistic appraisal of one's self. Self-respect causes you to develop prudence and foresight, and consideration for others.

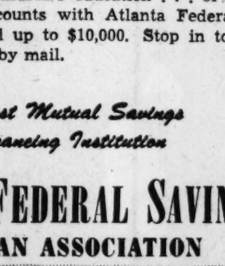

Can you do good work under a supervisor who hates you?

Answer: Probably not, but before you give up a good job, make sure you are not the guilty party: the one who is doing the hating. Many times we do not want to admit a feeling of hatred, so we unconsciously transfer this feeling to the object of our hate. If your supervisor dislikes you, it is entirely possible that he or she is reacting to overt hostility on your part. Dr. P. M. Symonds of Teachers College, Columbia University, considers it "a real achievement to be able to accept responsibility for one's own fears, dislikes and hatreds."

Should an old person live with the past?

Answer: No! If you want the people about you to enjoy your company you must share their interests and their conversations. If you find yourself withdrawing into your past, it must be because you are dissatisfied with your environment — not necessarily with your physical, but your mental environment. A withdrawal like this is a negative characteristic of discouragement. New occupations or hobbies, new friends (made through civic or church groups), new ideas for wider reading—these will give you a sense of belonging to and participating in the present.

The figures that bloom in the spring, tra, la

(have plenty to do with the case)

THE ARRIVAL OF SPRING is not exactly a fiscal occasion. But it is a natural time of reckoning and forecast—as much so for the businessman, as for the prairie farmer or the suburban gardener.

How are the Early Tabulations doing this year? Is the Seedling Statistic up as far as it should be by the 24th of March? LIFE is happy to report on these matters, insofar as its own bailiwick is concerned. Things are looking propitious indeed!

Our current Field Notes are set down on this page. You may find them interesting in connection with your own observations and aspirations for the almanac year.
